Welcome to the Fourth edition of NEMIS in 2015.
In this issue we would like to draw your attention to the following.

In Retrospect

Exactly five years ago, we started with NEMIS as a Newsletter. Initially, we started with a modest list of some twenty possibly interested judges. This 20th issue of NEMIS is sent to more than 400 persons of which some 300 are either a judge or assisting judges in their work.

In 2010, NEMIS contained a modest list of ECtHR and CJEU judgments (including pending cases) and just one national judgment: a case by the German Bundesverwaltungsgericht on their interpretation of the Family Reunification Directive. During the past five years the layout has been optimized and we had to use a smaller font in order to keep the size of our Newsletter reasonable. The last change was introduced in NEMIS 2015/3 in which all legal instruments and case law mentioned in the Newsletter were provided with direct links to their original sources.

This issue also contains a minor modification. Initially, national judgments were considered to be interesting since they could clarify how national courts in different MS interpreted Union law and other legal instruments. However, in the past five years, national courts increasingly showed to know how to find their way to the CJEU asking preliminary questions. Although it took a few years, the CJEU has given considerable guidance on the interpretation of the legal instruments. This has led to a situation in which there are hardly national judgments, if any, that are interesting as such for this Newsletter since most of these national judgments tend to be pending cases. As a result, national judgments will no longer be listed separately.

Return Directive

The CJEU has ruled in Celaj (C-290/14) that it is not precluded that legislation of a MS provides for the imposition of a prison sentence on an illegally staying third-country national who, after having been returned to his country of origin in the context of an earlier return procedure, unlawfully re-enters the territory of that State in breach of an entry ban.

This judgment therefore concludes the discussion on the question whether the Return Directive allows for any kind of prison sentence.

Research & Students Directive

On 17 November 2015, the Council and European Parliament reached an informal agreement on the Recast Directive on the conditions of entry and residence of third-country national researchers and students. This directive will replace both Directive 2005/71 on researchers and Directive 2004/114 on students. The political agreement will be discussed at the JHA council meeting of 3 and 4 December, and needs to be approved by the LIBE Committee and adopted by the Parliament’s plenary and the Council of ministers.

The new directive aims at increasing Europe’s attractiveness for scientists and students and facilitates their possibility to temporarily work or study in another Member State. The directive also introduces the right for students and researchers to stay at least nine months after finishing their studies or research in order to look for a job or to set up a business. Researchers will have the right to bring their family members with them, also when they move within the EU, and these family members will also have the right to work during their stay in Europe. Students will have the right to work at least 15 hours a week. The new Directive furthermore frames the conditions of remunerated internships and persons working au pair, their reception conditions and the stay of young researchers.

About

NEMIS is a newsletter designed for judges who need to keep up to date with EU developments in migration and borders law. This newsletter contains all European legislation and jurisprudence on access and residence rights of third country nationals. NEMIS does not include jurisprudence on free movement or asylum. We would like to refer to a separate Newsletter on that issue, the Newsletter on European Asylum Issues (NEAIS).

This Newsletter is part of the CMR Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence Work Program 2015-2018.

CJEU C-491/13 Ben Alaya | 10 Sep. 2014 | Art. 6 + 7 |

* interpr. of Dir. 2004/114 Students
* The MS concerned is obliged to admit to its territory a third-country national who wishes to stay for more than three months in that territory for study purposes, where that national meets the conditions for admission exhaustively listed in Art. 6 and 7 and provided that that MS does not invoke against that person one of the grounds expressly listed by the directive as justification for refusing a residence permit.

CJEU C-309/14 CGIL Long-Term Resident | 2 Sep. 2015 | Art. 7(1)(c) + 2(d) |

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/109 Long-Term Resident
* Italian national legislation has set a minimum fee for a residence permit, which is around eight times the charge for the issue of a national identity card. Such a fee is disproportionate in the light of the objective pursued by the directive and is liable to create an obstacle to the exercise of the rights conferred by the directive.

CJEU C-578/08 Chakrnon Family Reunification | 4 Mar. 2010 | Art. 7(1)(c) + 2(d) |

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86 Family Reunification
* The concept of family reunification allows no distinction based on the time of marriage. Furthermore, Member States may not require an income as a condition for family reunification, which is higher than the national minimum wage level. Admission conditions allowed by the directive, serve as indicators, but should not be applied rigidly, i.e. all individual circumstances should be taken into account.

CJEU C-568/10 Comm. v. Austria Students | 22 Nov. 2011 | Art. 17(1) - deleted |

* incor. appl. of Dir. 2004/114 Students
* Austrian law systematically denies TCN students access to the labour market. They are issued a work permit for a vacant position only if a check has been previously carried out as to whether the position cannot be filled by a person registered as unemployed.

CJEU C-508/10 Comm. v. Netherlands Long-Term Resident | 26 Apr. 2012 | Art. 17(1) - deleted |

* incor. appl. of Dir. 2003/109 Long-Term Resident
* The Court rules that the Netherlands has failed to fulfil its obligations by applying excessive and disproportionate administrative fees which are liable to create an obstacle to the exercise of the rights conferred by the Long-Term Residents Directive: (1) to TCNs seeking long-term resident status in the Netherlands, (2) to those who, having acquired that status in a MS other than the Kingdom of the Netherlands, are seeking to exercise the right to reside in that MS, and (3) to members of their families seeking authorisation to accompany or join them.
1.3: Regular Migration: Jurisprudence: CJEU Judgments

CJEU C-523/08
Comm. v. Spain
11 Feb. 2010

* non-transp. of Dir. 2005/71
Researchers

CJEU C-138/13
Dogan (Naime)
10 July 2014

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86
Family Reunification
Art. 7(2)

* The language requirement abroad is not in compliance with the standstill clauses of the Association Agreement. Although the question was also raised whether this requirement is in compliance with the Family Reunification Directive, the Court did not answer that question. However, paragraph 38 of the judgment could also have implications for its forthcoming answer on the compatibility of the language test with the Family Reunification: “on the assumption that the grounds set out by the German Government, namely the prevention of forced marriages and the promotion of integration, can constitute overriding reasons in the public interest, it remains the case that a national provision such as that at issue in the main proceedings goes beyond what is necessary in order to attain the objective pursued, in so far as the absence of evidence of sufficient linguistic knowledge automatically leads to the dismissal of the application for family reunification, without account being taken of the specific circumstances of each case”.

In this context it is relevant that the European Commission has stressed in its Communication on guidance for the application of Dir 2003/86, “that the objective of such measures is to facilitate the integration of family members. Their admissibility depends on whether they serve this purpose and whether they respect the principle of proportionality” (COM (2014)210, § 4.5).

CJEU C-540/03
EP v. Council
27 June 2006

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86
Family Reunification
Art. 8

* The derogation clauses (3 years waiting period and the age-limits for children) are not annulled, as they do not constitute a violation of article 8 ECHR. However, while applying these clauses and the directive as a whole, Member States are bound by the fundamental rights (including the rights of the child), the purpose of the directive and obligation to take all individual interests into account.

CJEU C-40/11
Iida
8 Nov. 2012

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/109
Long-Term Resident
Art. 7(1)

* In order to acquire long-term resident status, the third-country national concerned must lodge an application with the competent authorities of the Member State in which he resides. If this application is voluntarily withdrawn, a residence permit can not be granted.

CJEU C-155/11
Imran
10 June 2011

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86
Family Reunification
Art. 7(2) - no adj.

* The Commission took the position that Art. 7(2) does not allow MS to deny a family member as meant in Art. 4(1)(a) of a lawfully residing TCN entry and admission on the sole ground of not having passed a civic integration examination abroad. However, as a residence permit was granted just before the hearing would take place, the Court decided it was not necessary to give a ruling.

CJEU C-153/14
K. & A.
9 July 2015

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86
Family Reunification
Art. 7(2)

* Member States may require TCNs to pass a civic integration examination, which consists in an assessment of basic knowledge both of the language of the Member State concerned and of its society and which entails the payment of various costs, before authorising that national’s entry into and residence in the territory of the Member State for the purposes of family reunification, provided that the conditions of application of such a requirement do not make it impossible or excessively difficult to exercise the right to family reunification.

In circumstances such as those of the cases in the main proceedings, in so far as they do not allow regard to be had to special circumstances objectively forming an obstacle to the applicants passing the examination and in so far as they set the fees relating to such an examination at too high a level, those conditions make the exercise of the right to family reunification impossible or excessively difficult.

CJEU C-257/13
Mlalali
14 Nov. 2013

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/109
Long-Term Resident
Art. 11(1)(d) - inadm.

* Case (on equal treatment) was inadmissible

CJEU C-338/13
Noorzia
17 July 2014

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86
Family Reunification
Art. 4(5)

* Art. 4(5) does not preclude a rule of national law requiring that spouses and registered partners must have reached the age of 21 by the date when the application seeking to be considered family members entitled to reunification is lodged.

CJEU C-356/11
O. & S.
6 Dec. 2012

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86
Family Reunification
Art. 7(1)(c)

* When examining an application for family reunification, a MS has to do so in the interests of the children concerned and also with a view to promoting family life, and avoiding any undermining of the objective and the effectiveness of the directive.

CJEU C-527/14
* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86
  * Family Reunification
  * Art. 7(2) - deleted
  * Case is withdrawn since the question was answered in the judgment in the K&A case (C-153/14).

CJEU C-579/13
* interpr. of Dir. 2003/109
  * P. & S.
  * Art. 5 + 11
  * Article 5(2) and Article 11(1) do not preclude national legislation, such as that at issue in the main proceedings, which imposes on TCNs who already possess long-term resident status the obligation to pass a civic integration examination, under pain of a fine, provided that the means of implementing that obligation are not liable to jeopardise the achievement of the objectives pursued by that directive, which it is for the referring court to determine. Whether the long-term resident status was acquired before or after the obligation to pass a civic integration examination was imposed is irrelevant in that respect.

CJEU C-294/06

CJEU C-502/10

  * Singh
  * Long-Term Resident
  * Art. 3(2)(e)
  * The concept of 'residence permit which has been formally limited' as referred to in Art. 3(2)(e), does not include a fixed-period residence permit, granted to a specific group of persons, if the validity of their permit can be extended indefinitely without offering the prospect of permanent residence rights. The referring national court has to ascertain if a formal limitation does not prevent the long-term residence of the third-country national in the Member State concerned. If that is the case, this national cannot be excluded from the personal scope of Directive 2003/109.

CJEU C-15/11

  * Sommer
  * Students
  * Art. 17(3)
  * The conditions of access to the labour market by Bulgarian students, may not be more restrictive than those set out in the Directive

CJEU C-469/13
* interpr. of Dir. 2003/109
  * Tahir
  * Long-Term Resident
  * Art. 7(1) + 13
  * Family members of a person who has already acquired LTR status may not be exempted from the condition laid down in Article 4(1), under which, in order to obtain that status, a TCN must have resided legally and continuously in the MS concerned for five years immediately prior to the submission of the relevant application. Art. 13 of the LTR Directive does not allow a MS to issue family members, as defined in Article 2(e) of that directive, with LTR’ EU residence permits on terms more favourable than those laid down by that directive.

CJEU C-311/13
* interpr. of Dir. 2003/109
  * Tümer
  * Long-Term Resident
  * While the LTR provided for equal treatment of long-term resident TCNs, this ‘in no way precludes other EU acts, such as’ the insolvent employers Directive, “from conferring, subject to different conditions, rights on TCNs with a view to achieving individual objectives of those acts”.

CJEU C-176/14
* interpr. of Dir. 2003/109
  * Van Hauthem
  * Long-Term Resident
  * Art. 14 - deleted
  * Case was withdrawn by the Belgian court.

CJEU C-247/09
* interpr. of Reg. 859/2003
  * Xhymshiti
  * Social Security TCN
  * In the case in which a national of a non-member country is lawfully resident in a MS of the EU and works in Switzerland, Reg. 859/2003 does not apply to that person in his MS of residence, in so far as that regulation is not among the Community acts mentioned in section A of Annex II to the EU-Switzerland Agreement which the parties to that agreement undertake to apply.

CJEU C-87/12
* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86
  * Ymeraga
  * Family Reunification
  * Art. 3(3)
  * Directives 2003/86 and 2004/38 are not applicable to third-country nationals who apply for the right of residence in order to join a family member who is a Union citizen and has never exercised his right of freedom of movement as a Union citizen, always having resided as such in the Member State of which he holds the nationality (see, also, C-256/11 Dereci a.o., par. 38).

<td>A case similar to Nunez (ECtHR 28 June 2011) except that de judgment is not unanimous (2 dissenting opinions). Mr Antwi from Ghana migrates in 1988 to Germany on a false Portuguese passport. In Germany he meets his future wife (also from Ghana) who lives in Norway and is naturalised to Norwegian nationality. Mr Antwi moves to Norway to live with her and their first child is born in 2001 in Norway. In 2005 the parents marry in Ghana and subsequently it is discovered that mr Antwi travels on a false passport. In Norway mr Antwi goes to trial and is expelled to Ghana with a five year re-entry ban. The Court does not find that the Norwegian authorities acted arbitrarily or otherwise transgressed the margin of appreciation which should be accorded to it in this area when seeking to strike a fair balance between its public interest in ensuring effective immigration control, on the one hand, and the applicants’ need that the first applicant be able to remain in Norway, on the other hand.</td>

<td>Expulsion of one of the spouses is a serious obstacle to family life for the remaining spouse and children in the context of article 8. In this case the ECtHR establishes guiding principles in order to examine whether such a measure is necessary in a democratic society. Relevant criteria are: - the nature and seriousness of the offence committed by the applicant; - the length of the applicant’s stay in the country from which he is going to be expelled;</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
- the time elapsed since the offence was committed as well as the applicant’s conduct in that period;
- the nationalities of the various persons concerned;
- the applicant’s family situation, such as the length of the marriage;
- and other factors expressing the effectiveness of a couple’s family life;
- whether the spouse knew about the offence at the time when he or she entered into a family relationship;
- and whether there are children in the marriage, and if so, their age.
Not least, the Court will also consider the seriousness of the difficulties which the spouse is likely to encounter in the country of origin, though the mere fact that a person might face certain difficulties in accompanying her or his spouse cannot in itself exclude an expulsion.

ECtHR Ap.no. 47017/09
* Butt v. NO
4 Dec. 2012

- violation of
- ECHR
- Art. 8

* At the age of 3 and 4, the Butt children enter Norway with their mother from Pakistan in 1989. They receive a residence permit on humanitarian grounds. After a couple of years the mother returns with the children to Pakistan without knowledge of the Norwegian authorities. After a couple years the mother travels - again - back to Norway to continue living there. The children are 10 an 11 years old. When the father of the children wants to live also in Norway, a new investigation shows that the family has lived both in Norway and in Pakistan and their residence permit is withdrawn. However, the expulsion of the children is not carried out. Years later, their deportation is discussed again. The mother has already died and the adult children still do not have any contact with their father in Pakistan. Their ties with Pakistan are so weak and reversely with Norway so strong that their expulsion is would entail a violation of art. 8.

ECtHR Ap.no. 22689/07
* De Souza Ribeiro v. UK

- violation of
- ECHR
- Art. 8 + 13

* A Brazilian in French Guiana was removed to Brazil within 50 minutes after an appeal had been lodged against his removal order. In this case the Court considers that the haste with which the removal order was executed had the effect of rendering the available remedies ineffective in practice and therefore inaccessible. The brevity of that time lapse excludes any possibility that the court seriously examined the circumstances and legal arguments in favour of or against a violation of Article 8 of the Convention in the event of the removal order being enforced. Thus, while States are afforded some discretion as to the manner in which they conform to their obligations under Article 13 of the Convention, that discretion must not result, as in the present case, in an applicant being denied access in practice to the minimum procedural safeguards needed to protect him against arbitrary expulsion. Concerning the danger of overloading the courts and adversely affecting the proper administration of justice in French Guiana, the Court reiterates that, as with Article 6 of the Convention, Article 13 imposes on the Contracting States the duty to organise their judicial systems in such a way that their courts can meet its requirements.

ECtHR Ap.no. 17120/09
* Dhaibbi v. IT
8 Apr. 2014

- interpr. of
- ECHR
- Art. 6, 8 and 14

* The ECtHR ruled that art. 6(1) also means that a national judge has an obligation to decide on a question which requests for a preliminary ruling on the interpretation of Union law. Either the national judge explicitly argues why such a request is pointless (or already answered) or the national judge requests the CJEU for a preliminary ruling on the issue. In this case the Italian Supreme Court did not answer the question at all.

ECtHR Ap.no. 22251/07
* G.R. v. NL
10 Jan. 2012

- violation of
- ECHR
- Art. 8 + 13

* The applicant did not have effective access to the administrative procedure by which he might, subject to fulfilling the conditions prescribed by domestic law, obtain a residence permit which would allow him to reside lawfully with his family in the Netherlands, due to the disproportion between the administrative charge in issue and the actual income of the applicant’s family. The Court finds that the extremely formalistic attitude of the Minister – which, endorsed by the Regional Court, also deprived the applicant of access to the competent administrative tribunal – unjustifiably hindered the applicant’s use of an otherwise effective domestic remedy. There has therefore been a violation of Article 8 and 13 of the Convention.

ECtHR Ap.no. 52166/09
* Hasanbasic v. CH
11 June 2013

- violation of
- ECHR
- Art. 8

* After living in Switzerland for 23 years with a residence permit, the applicant decides to go back to Bosnia. Soon after, he gets seriously ill and wants to get back to his wife who stayed in Switzerland. However, this (family reunification) request is denied mainly because of the fact that he has been on welfare and had been fined (a total of 350 euros) and convicted for several offences (a total of 17 days imprisonment). The court rules that this rejection, given the circumstances of the case, is disproportionate and a violation of article 8.

ECtHR Ap.no. 41615/07 Neulinger v. CH
* The child’s best interests, from a personal development perspective, will depend on a variety of individual circumstances, in particular his age and level of maturity, the presence or absence of his parents and his environment and experiences. For that reason, these best interests must be assessed in each individual case. To that end they enjoy a certain margin of appreciation, which remains subject, however, to a European supervision whereby the Court reviews under the Convention the decisions that those authorities have taken in the exercise of that power. In this case the Court notes that the child has Swiss nationality and that he arrived in the country in June 2005 at the age of two. He has been living there continuously ever since. He now goes to school in Switzerland and speaks French. Even though he is at an age where he still has a certain capacity for adaptation, the fact of being uprooted again from his habitual environment would probably have serious consequences for him, especially if he returns on his own, as indicated in the medical reports. His return to Israel cannot therefore be regarded as beneficial.

ECtHR Ap.no. 55597/09 Nunez v. NO
* Although Ms Nunez was deported from Norway in 1996 with a two-year ban on her re-entry into Norway, she returned to Norway, got married and had two daughters born in 2002 and 2003. It takes until 2005 for the Norwegian authorities to revoke her permits and to decide that Mrs. Nunez should be expelled. The Court rules that the authorities had not struck a fair balance between the public interest in ensuring effective immigration control and Ms Nunez’s need to remain in Norway in order to continue to have contact with her children.

ECtHR Ap.no. 34848/07
O’Donoghue v. UK
14 Dec. 2010

- violation of
  ECHR
- Art. 12 + 14
- Judgment of Fourth Section
- The UK Certificate of Approval required foreigners, except those wishing to marry in the Church of England, to pay large fees to obtain the permission from the Home Office to marry. The Court found that the conditions violated the right to marry (Article 12 of the Convention), that it was discriminatory in its application (Article 14 of the Convention) and that it was discriminatory on the ground of religion (Articles 9 and 14 of the Convention).

ECtHR Ap.no. 38058/09
Osman v. DK
14 June 2011

- violation of
  ECHR
- Art. 8
- The Court concluded that the denial of admission of a 17 years old Somali girl to Denmark, where she had lived from the age of seven until the age of fifteen, violated Article 8. For a settled migrant who has lawfully spent all of the major part of his or her childhood and youth in a host country, very serious reasons are required to justify expulsion’. The Danish Government had argued that the refusal was justified because the applicant had been taken out of the country by her father, with her mother’s permission, in exercise of their rights of parental responsibility. The Court agreed ‘that the exercise of parental rights constitutes a fundamental element of family life’, but concluded that ‘in respecting parental rights, the authorities cannot ignore the child’s interest including its own right to respect for private and family life’.

ECtHR Ap.no. 12020/09
Udeh v. CH
16 Apr. 2013

- violation of
  ECHR
- Art. 8
- In 2001 a Nigerian national, was sentenced to four months’ imprisonment for possession of a small quantity of cocaine. In 2003 he married a Swiss national who had just given birth to their twin daughters. By virtue of his marriage, he was granted a residence permit in Switzerland. In 2006 he was sentenced to forty-two months’ imprisonment in Germany for a drug-trafficking offence. The Swiss Office of Migration refused to renew his residence permit, stating that his criminal conviction and his family’s dependence on welfare benefits were grounds for his expulsion. An appeal was dismissed. In 2009 he was informed that he had to leave Switzerland. In 2011 he was made the subject of an order prohibiting him from entering Switzerland until 2020. Although he is divorced in the meantime and custody of the children has been awarded to the mother, he has been given contact rights. The court rules that deportation and exclusion orders would prevent the immigrant with two criminal convictions from seeing his minor children: deportation would constitute a violation of article 8.

ECtHR Ap.no. 46410/99
Üner v. NL
18 Oct. 2006

- violation of
  ECHR
- Art. 8
- The expulsion of an alien raises a problem within the context of art. 8 ECHR if that alien has a family whom he has to leave behind. In Boultif (54273/00) the Court elaborated the relevant criteria which it would use in order to assess whether an expulsion measure was necessary in a democratic society and proportionate to the legitimate aim pursued. These criteria are:
  - the nature and seriousness of the offence committed by the applicant;
  - the length of the applicant’s stay in the country from which he or she is to be expelled;
  - the time elapsed since the offence was committed and the applicant’s conduct during that period;
  - the nationalities of the various persons concerned;
  - the applicant’s family situation, such as the length of the marriage, and other factors expressing the effectiveness of a couple’s family life;
  - whether the spouse knew about the offence at the time when he or she entered into a family relationship;
  - whether there are children of the marriage, and if so, their age; and
  - the seriousness of the difficulties which the spouse is likely to encounter in the country to which the applicant is to be expelled.

The Court adds in this judgment two additional criteria:
  - the best interests and well-being of the children, in particular the seriousness of the difficulties which any children of the applicant are likely to encounter in the country to which the applicant is to be expelled; and
  - the solidity of social, cultural and family ties with the host country and with the country of destination.

* interpr. of Reg. 562/2006
* Member States are not obliged to expel a third-country national who is unlawfully present on the territory of a Member State because the conditions of duration of stay are not or no longer fulfilled.
* Where a TCN is unlawfully present on the territory of a MS because he or she does not fulfil, or no longer fulfils, the conditions of duration of stay applicable there, that MS is not obliged to adopt a decision to expel that person.

| CJEU C-88/14 | Visa List | 16 July 2015 |

* interpr. of Reg. 539/2001

| CJEU C-430/10 | Visa Code | Art. 23(4) + 32(1) |
| CJEU C-84/12 | 19 Dec. 2013 |

* Art. 23(4), 32(1) and 35(6) must be interpreted as meaning that the competent authorities of a MS cannot refuse a visa to an applicant unless one of the grounds for refusal of a visa listed in those provisions can be applied to that applicant. In the examinations of those conditions and the relevant facts, authorities have a wide discretion. The obligation to issue a uniform visa is subject to the condition that there is no reasonable doubt that the applicant intends to leave the territory of the Member States before the expiry of the visa applied for.

| CJEU C-139/08 | Kqiku | 2 Apr. 2009 |
| CJEU C-257/01 | Visa Code | 18 Jan. 2005 |

2.3: Borders and Visas: Jurisprudence: CJEU Judgments

* interpr. of Dec. 896/2006 Transit Switzerland Art. 1 + 2
* on transit visa legislation for third-country nationals subject to a visa requirement
* Residence permits issued by the Swiss Confederation or the Principality of Liechtenstein to TCNs subject to a visa requirement, are considered to be equivalent to a transit visa only.

CJEU C-188/10 & C-189/10 Melki & Abdeli 22 June 2010
* interpr. of Reg. 562/2006 Borders Code Art. 20 + 21
* consistency of national law and European Union law, abolition of border control and the area of 20 kilometres from the land border
* The French ‘stop and search’ law, which allowed for controls behind the internal border, is in violation of article 20 and 21 of the Borders code, due to the lack of requirement of “behaviour and of specific circumstances giving rise to a risk of breach of public order”. According to the Court, controls may not have an effect equivalent to border checks.

CJEU C-291/12 Schwarz 17 Oct. 2013
* interpr. of Reg. 2252/2004 Passports Art. 1(2)
* Although the taking and storing of fingerprints in passports constitutes an infringement of the rights to respect for private life and the protection of personal data, such measures are nonetheless justified for the purpose of preventing any fraudulent use of passports.

CJEU C-254/11 Shomodi 21 Mar. 2013
* interpr. of Reg. 1931/2006 Local Border traffic Art. 2(a) + 3(3)
* The holder of a local border traffic permit must be able to move freely within the border area for a period of three months if his stay is uninterrupted and to have a new right to a three-month stay each time that his stay is interrupted. There is such an interruption of stay upon the crossing of the border irrespective of the frequency of such crossings, even if they occur several times daily.

CJEU C-44/14 Spain v. EP & Council 8 Sep. 2015
* non-transp. of Reg. 1052/2013 EUROSUR
* Limited forms of cooperation do not constitute a form of taking part within the meaning of Article 4 of the Schengen Protocol. Consequently, Article 19 of the Eurosur Regulation cannot be regarded as giving the Member States the option of concluding agreements which allow Ireland or the United Kingdom to take part in the provisions in force of the Schengen acquis in the area of the crossing of the external borders.

* interpr. of Reg. 2252/2004 Passports
* About the recording and spelling of names, surnames and family names in passports. CJEU C-446/12 Willems a.o. 16 Apr. 2015
* interpr. of Reg. 2252/2004 Passports Art. 4(3)
* Article 4(3) does not require the Member States to guarantee, in their legislation, that biometric data collected and stored in accordance with that regulation will not be collected, processed and used for purposes other than the issue of the passport or travel document, since that is not a matter which falls within the scope of that regulation.

CJEU C-23/12 Zakaria 17 Jan. 2013
* interpr. of Reg. 562/2006 Borders Code Art. 13(3)

</tr>
<tr>
<td>* The case concerns a migrant who had entered Malta in an irregular manner by boat. The ECtHR found a violation of art. 5(1), mainly due to the failure of the Maltese authorities to pursue deportation or to do so with due diligence, and of art. 5(4) due to absence of an effective and speedy domestic remedy to challenge the lawfulness of their detention. Also, the ECtHR requested the Maltese authorities (Art. 46) to establish a mechanism allowing a determination of the lawfulness of immigration detention within a reasonable time-limit. In this case the Court for the first time found Malta in violation of art. 3 because of the immigration detention conditions. Those conditions in which the applicant had been living for 14½ months were, taken as a whole, amounted to degrading treatment.</td>

<td>* The applicant was an Iranian journalist who alleged to have been arrested and tortured due to his involvement in protests against the government. After his arrival in Greece a decision had been taken to return him to Turkey, and he had been held in custody in a police station and in various detention centres. His application for asylum was first not registered by the Greek authorities, and later they dismissed the application. The application mainly concerned the conditions of detention, in particular overcrowding, unhygienic conditions, lack of external contact, and lack of access to telephone, translators and any kind of information. Referring to its previous case law, the ECtHR held these conditions to be in violation of Art. 3. As there had been no effective domestic remedy against that situation, Art. 13 in combination with art. 3 had also been violated.</td>

For the first time the Court applied Article 4 of Protocol no. 4 (prohibition of collective expulsion) in the circumstance of aliens who were not physically present on the territory of the State, but in the high seas. Italy was also held responsible for exposing the aliens to a treatment in violation with Article 3 ECHR, as it transferred them to Libya 'in full knowledge of the facts' and circumstances in Libya. ### 3.2 Irregular Migration: Proposed Measures
- The Commission is planning to propose soon that MS should insert all national entry bans in SIS

3.3 Irregular Migration: Jurisprudence

3.3.1 CJEU Judgments on Irregular Migration
- CJEU C-562/13 Abdida | 18 Dec. 2014 |
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive | Art. 5+13 |
- * Although the Belgium court had asked a preliminary ruling on the interpretation of the Qualification Dir., the CJEU re-interpreted the question of an issue of Art. 5 and 13 of the Returns Directive. These articles are to be interpreted as precluding national legislation which: (1) does not endow with suspensive effect an appeal against a decision ordering a third country national suffering from a serious illness to leave the territory of a Member State, where the enforcement of that decision may expose that third country national to a serious risk of grave and irreversible deterioration in his state of health, and (2) does not make provision, in so far as possible, for the basic needs of such a third country national to be met, in order to ensure that that person may in fact avail himself of emergency health care and essential treatment of illness during the period in which that Member State is required to postpone removal of the third country national following the lodging of the appeal.

CJEU C-329/11 Achughbajan 6 Dec. 2011
* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive
* The directive precludes national legislation permitting the imprisonment of an illegally staying third-country national who has not (yet) been subject to the coercive measures provided for in the directive and has not, if detained with a view to be returned, reached the expiry of the maximum duration of that detention. The directive does not preclude penal sanctions being imposed after full application of the return procedure established by that directive.

CJEU C-534/11 Arslan 30 May 2013
* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive Art. 2(1)
* The Return Dir. does not apply during the period from the making of the (asylum) application to the adoption of the decision at first instance on that application or, as the case may be, until the outcome of any action brought against that decision is known.

CJEU C-473/13 & C-514/13 Bero & Bouzalme 17 July 2014
* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive Art. 16(1)
* As a rule, a MS is required to detain illegally staying TCNs for the purpose of removal in a specialised detention facility of that State even if the MS has a federal structure and the federated state competent to decide upon and carry out such detention under national law does not have such a detention facility.

CJEU C-249/13 Boudjlida 11 Dec. 2014
* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive
* The right to be heard in all proceedings (in particular, Art 6), must be interpreted as extending to the right of an illegally staying third-country national to express, before the adoption of a return decision concerning him, his point of view on the legality of his stay, on the possible application of Art 5 and 6(2) to (5) and on the detailed arrangements for his return.

CJEU C-290/14 Celaj 1 Oct. 2015
* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive
* The Directive must be interpreted as not, in principle, precluding legislation of a MS which provides for the imposition of a prison sentence on an illegally staying third-country national who, after having been returned to his country of origin in the context of an earlier return procedure, unlawfully re-enters the territory of that State in breach of an entry ban, at least in cases of re-entry in breach of an entry ban.

Comm. v. Spain 14 May 2009
* non-transp. of Dir. 2004/81 Trafficking Victims
* On the status of victims of trafficking and smuggling

CJEU C-189/13 Da Silva 3 July 2014
* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive inadmissible
* On the permissibility of national legislation imposing a custodial sentence for the offence of illegal entry prior to the institution of deportation proceedings.

CJEU C-61/11 (PPU) El Dridi 28 Apr. 2011
* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive Art. 15 + 16
* The Return Directive precludes that a Member State has legislation which provides for a sentence of imprisonment to be imposed on an illegally staying TCN on the sole ground that he remains, without valid grounds, on the territory of that State, contrary to an order to leave that territory within a given period.

CJEU C-73/12 Ettaghi 4 July 2012
* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive Art. 2-8, 15 + 16 - deleted

CJEU C-297/12 Filev & Osmani 19 Sep. 2013
* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive Art. 2(2)(b) + 11
* Directive must be interpreted as precluding a MS from providing that an expulsion or removal order which predates by five years or more the period between the date on which that directive should have been implemented and the date on which it was implemented, may subsequently be used as a basis for criminal proceedings, where that order was based on a criminal law sanction

Zh. & O. 11 June 2015

* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive Art. 7(4)

* (1) Article 7(4) must be interpreted as precluding a national practice whereby a third-country national, who is staying illegally within the territory of a Member State, is deemed to pose a risk to public policy within the meaning of that provision on the sole ground that that national is suspected, or has been criminally convicted, of an act punishable as a criminal offence under national law;

* (2) Article 7(4) must be interpreted to the effect that, in the case of a TCN who is staying illegally within the territory of a MS and is suspected, or has been criminally convicted, of an act punishable as a criminal offence under national law, other factors, such as the nature and seriousness of that act, the time which has elapsed since it was committed and the fact that that national was in the process of leaving the territory of that MS when he was detained by the national authorities, may be relevant in the assessment of whether he poses a risk to public policy within the meaning of that provision. Any matter which relates to the reliability of the suspicion that the third-country national concerned committed the alleged criminal offence, as the case may be, is also relevant to that assessment.

* (3) Article 7(4) must be interpreted as meaning that it is not necessary, in order to make use of the option offered by that provision to refrain from granting a period for voluntary departure when the third-country national poses a risk to public policy, to conduct a fresh examination of the matters which have already been examined in order to establish the existence of that risk. Any legislation or practice of a MS on this issue must nevertheless ensure that a case-by-case assessment is conducted of whether the refusal to grant such a period is compatible with that person’s fundamental rights.

CJEU C-51/12

Zhu 16 Feb. 2013

* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive Art. 2-8, 15 + 16 - deleted

* Whether it is possible to substitute for the fine (for entering national territory illegally or staying there illegally) an order for immediate expulsion for a period of at least five years or a measure restricting freedom (‘permanenza domiciliare’).

3.3.2 CJEU pending cases on Irregular Migration

CJEU C-47/15

Affum

* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive

* ref. from 'Cour de Cassation' (France)

* Does the Return Directive preclude national legislation under which a TCN who entered the territory of a MS illegally is liable to a term of imprisonment under the same conditions as those laid down by the CJEU (Achughbalian, C-329/11) in so far as concerns illegal stay, which are contingent on the person concerned not having been previously subject to the coercive measures referred to in Article 8 of the directive and the duration of that person’s detention?

CJEU C-161/15

Bensada Benallal

* interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive

* ref. from 'Conseil d’Etat' (Belgium)

* Does the general principle of EU Law upholding the rights of the defence, including the right of an individual to be heard by a national authority before any decision is taken by that authority likely adversely to affect that individual’s interests such as a decision ending that individual’s residence authorisation, carry in the legal system of the European Union an equivalent importance to that held by the rules of public policy in the Belgian legal system, and does the principle of equivalence require that a plea can be raised for the first time before the Conseil d’Etat hearing an appeal in cassation based on breach of the general principle of EU law of the right to a fair hearing as is permitted in the national law for pleas based on public policy?

3.3.3 ECtHR Judgments on Irregular Migration

ECtHR Ap.no. 53709/11

A.F. v. GR 13 June 2013

* violation of ECHR Art. 5

* An Iranian entering Greece from Turkey had initially not been registered as an asylum seeker by the Greek authorities, which ordered his return to Turkey. However, the Turkish authorities refused to readmit him into Turkey, and he was then detained by the Greek police.

Against the background of reports from Greek and international organisations, having visited the relevant police detention facilities either during the applicant’s detention or shortly after his release – including the European Committee for the Prevention of Torture, the UN Special Rapporteur on Torture, the German NGO ProAsyl and the Greek National Human Rights Commission – the ECtHR found a violation of art. 3 due to the serious lack of space available to the applicant, also taking the duration of his detention into account. It was thus unnecessary for the Court to examine the applicant’s other allegations concerning the detention conditions (art 5 ECHR) which the Government disputed. Yet, the Court noted that the Government’s statements in this regard were not in accordance with the findings of the abovementioned organisations.

Abdelhakim v. HU
ECtHR Ap.no. 13058/11
* violation of ECHR Art. 5
* This case concerns unlawful detention, without effective judicial review, of an asylum seeker during the examination of his asylum application. The applicant was a Palestinian who had been stopped at the Hungarian border control for using a forged passport.

Ahmed v. GR
ECtHR Ap.no. 50520/09
25 Sep. 2012
* violation of ECHR Art. 5
* The conditions of detention of the applicant Afghan asylum seeker in two police stations in Athens were found to constitute degrading treatment in breach of ECHR art. 3. Since Greek law did not allow the courts to examine the conditions of detention in centres for irregular immigrants, the applicant did not have an effective remedy in that regard, in violation of ECHR art. 13 taken together with art. 3. The Court found an additional violation of ECHR art. 13 taken together with art. 3, resulting from the structural deficiencies of the Greek asylum system, as evidenced by the period during which the applicant had been awaiting the outcome of his appeal against the refusal of asylum, and the risk that he might be deported before his asylum appeal had been examined. ECHR art. 5 para. 4 was violated due to the lack of judicial competence to review the lawfulness of the deportation constituting the legal basis of detention.

Ali Said v. HU
ECtHR Ap.no. 13457/11
* violation of ECHR Art. 5
* This case concerns unlawful detention, without effective judicial review, of an asylum seeker during the examination of his asylum application. The applicants were Iraqi nationals who illegally entered Hungary, applied for asylum and then travelled illegally to the Netherlands from where they were transferred back to Hungary under the Dublin Regulation.

Hirsi v. IT
ECtHR Ap.no. 27765/09
21 Feb. 2012
* violation of ECHR Prot. 4 Art. 4
* The Court concluded that the decision of the Italian authorities to send TCNs - who were intercepted outside the territorial waters of Italy - back to Libya, had exposed them to the risk of ill-treatment there, as well as to the risk of ill-treatment if they were sent back to their countries of origin (Somalia and Eritrea). They also had been subjected to collective expulsion prohibited by Art. 4 of Protocol No. 4. The Court also concluded that they had had no effective remedy in Italy against the alleged violations.

Lokpo & Touré v. HU
ECtHR Ap.no. 10816/10
20 Sep. 2011
* violation of ECHR Art. 5
* The applicants entered Hungary illegally. After their arrest and during subsequent detention they applied for asylum. They were kept however in detention. The Court ruled that Article 5 § 1 (right to liberty and security) was violated, stating that the absence of elaborate reasoning for an applicant’s deprivation of liberty renders that measure incompatible with the requirement of lawfulness.

Mahmuni v. GR
ECtHR Ap.no. 14902/10
31 July 2012
* violation of ECHR Art. 5
* The conditions of detention of the applicants – Afghan nationals, subsequently seeking asylum in Norway, who had been detained in the Pagani detention centre upon being rescued from a sinking boat by the maritime police – were held to be in violation of ECHR art. 3. In the specific circumstances of this case the treatment during 18 days of detention was considered not only degrading, but also inhuman, mainly due to the fact that the applicants’ children had also been detained, some of them separated from their parents. In addition, a female applicant had been in the final stages of pregnancy and had received insufficient medical assistance and no information about the place of her giving birth and what would happen to her and her child. ECHR art. 13, taken together with art. 3, had been violated by the impossibility for the applicants to take any action before the courts to complain of their conditions of detention. ECHR art. 5 para. 4 was violated due to the lack of judicial competence to review the lawfulness of the deportation that constitutes the legal basis for detention.
