Editorial

Welcome to the first edition of NEMIS in 2014.

NEMIS is a newsletter designed for judges who need to keep up to date with EU developments in migration and borders law. This newsletter contains all European legislation and jurisprudence on access and residence rights of third country nationals, as well as relevant national judgments on the interpretation of this legislation.

NEMIS does not include jurisprudence on free movement of EU citizens and their third country national family members. NEMIS does not cover asylum. We would like to refer to a separate Newsletter on that issue, the Newsletter on European Asylum Issues (NEAIS).

In this issue we would like to draw your attention to the following.

Visa

In December 2013, the Court of Justice decided in the case Koushkaki (C-84/12) that the Visa Code (especially Art. 23(4), 32(1) and 35(6)) must be interpreted in such a way, that Member States are obliged to issue a visa if the grounds for refusal, exhaustively listed in the Code, do not apply. However, in the examination of those conditions and the relevant facts, authorities have a wide discretion. According to Art. 32(1) read in conjunction with 21(1), the obligation to issue a uniform visa is subject to the condition that there is no reasonable doubt that the applicant intends to leave the territory of the Member States before the expiry of the visa applied for.

Language

After the Imran (C-155/11) and Dogan case (C-138/13), a new case is pending on obligatory integration of third country nationals (C-579/13). This time the question is not about integration as an admission requirement, but as an obligation imposed after the Long-term status has been granted. In November 2013 the Dutch Centrale Raad van Beroep asked the Court of Justice if article 5 and 11 of the Long-term residence Directive allow Member States to impose an obligation to integrate (sanctioned by a fine) to a holder of the Long-term resident status. Furthermore, the Dutch Centrale Raad van Beroep wanted to know if it is relevant in this regard that this obligation has been imposed already before the person had acquired the Long-term resident status.

ECtHR

Amongst the judgments of the ECtHR the Court found (app. 55352/12, Aden Ahmed) for the first time Malta in violation of Art. 3 because of the immigration detention conditions. Those conditions in which the applicant had been living for 14½ months were, taken as a whole, amounted to degrading treatment.

Presentation

In order to improve readability of this newsletter we would like to indicate that the (adopted and proposed) measures are listed in alphabetical order. The short list of jurisprudence listed under each measure is presented in reversed chronological order (latest first). In the paragraphs containing the abstracts of cases, however, jurisprudence is presented in an alphabetical order.

Input

The more jurisprudence the editors receive from judges, the more relevant this newsletter will become. You are therefore more than welcome to provide us with your judgments, providing a relevant interpretation on the legal instruments NEMIS informs you about, or in which a request for a preliminary ruling on their interpretation is formulated.

- ☞ CJEU C-578/08, Chakroun [4 Mar. 2010]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2003/86, Family Reunification [Art. 7(1)(c) + 2(d)]
- * The concept of family reunification allows no distinction based on the time of marriage. Furthermore, Member States may not require an income as a condition for family reunification, which is higher than the national minimum wage level. Admission conditions allowed by the directive, serve as indicators, but should not be applied rigidly, i.e. all individual circumstances should be taken into account.

- * non-transp. of Dir. 2005/71, Researchers
- ☞ CJEU C-508/10, Commission v NL [26 Apr. 2012]
- * incor. appl. of Dir. 2003/109, Long-Term Resident
- * The Court rules that the Netherlands has failed to fulfil its obligations by applying excessive and disproportionate administrative fees which are liable to create an obstacle to the exercise of the rights conferred by the Long-Term Residents Directive: (1) to TCNs seeking long-term resident status in the Netherlands, (2) to those who, having acquired that status in a MS other than the Kingdom of the Netherlands, are seeking to exercise the right to reside in that MS, and (3) to members of their families seeking authorisation to accompany or join them.
- ☞ CJEU C-540/03, EP v Council [27 June 2006]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2003/86, Family Reunification [Art. 8]
- * The derogation clauses (3 years waiting period and the age-limits for children) are not annulled, as they do not constitute a violation of article 8 ECHR. However, while applying these clauses and the directive as a whole, Member States are bound by the fundamental rights (including the rights of the child), the purpose of the directive and obligation to take all individual interests into account.

- ☞ CJEU C-40/11, Iida [8 Nov. 2012]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2003/109, Long-Term Resident [Art. 7(1)]
- * In order to acquire long-term resident status, the third-country national concerned must lodge an application with the competent authorities of the Member State in which he resides. If this application is voluntarily withdrawn, a residence permit can not be granted.
- ☞ CJEU C-155/11, Imran [10 June 2011] (no adj.)
- * interpr. of Dir. 2003/86, Family Reunification [Art. 7(2) - no adj.]
- * The Commission took the position that Art. 7(2) does not allow Member States to deny a family member as meant in Art. 4(1)(a) of a lawfully residing TCN entry and admission on the sole ground of not having passed a civic integration examination abroad.
See: <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/Imran.EU.pdf>
However, as a residence permit was granted just before the hearing would take place, the Court decided it was not necessary to give a ruling.

- * EU Law precludes a distinction on the basis of ethnicity or linguistic groups in order to be eligible for housing benefit.
- ☞ CJEU C-502/10, Singh [18 Oct. 2012]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2003/109, Long-Term Resident [Art. 3(2)(e)]
- * The concept of 'residence permit which has been formally limited' as referred to in Art. 3(2)(e), does not include a fixed-period residence permit, granted to a specific group of persons, if the validity of their permit can be extended indefinitely without offering the prospect of permanent residence rights. The referring national court has to ascertain if a formal limitation does not prevent the long-term residence of the third-country national in the Member State concerned. If that is the case, this national cannot be excluded from the personal scope of Directive 2003/109.
- ☞ CJEU C-15/11, Sommer [21 June 2012]

- * interpr. of Reg. 859/2003, Social Security TCNs
- ☞ CJEU C-87/12, Ymeraga [8 May 2013]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2003/86, Family Reunification [Art. 3(3)]
- * Directives 2003/86 and 2004/38 are not applicable to third-country nationals who apply for the right of residence in order to join a family member who is a Union citizen and has never exercised his right of freedom of movement as a Union citizen, always having resided as such in the Member State of which he holds the nationality (see, also, C-256/11 Dereci a.o., par. 58).

1.3.3 EFTA judgments on Regular Migration

- ☞ EFTA E-4/11, Clauder [26 July 2011]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2003/86, Family Reunification [Art. 7(1)]
- * ref. from 'Verwaltungsgerichtshof' (Liechtenstein)
- * An EEA national with a right of permanent residence, who is a pensioner and in receipt of social welfare benefits in the host EEA State, may claim the right to family reunification even if the family member will also be claiming social welfare benefits.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 8000/08, A.A. v UK [20 Sep. 2011]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 8]
- * The applicant alleged, in particular, that his deportation to Nigeria would violate his right to respect for his family and private life and would deprive him of the right to education by terminating his university studies in the United Kingdom.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 22689/07, De Souza Ribeiro v GB [13 Dec. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 8 + 13]
- * A Brazilian in French Guiana was removed to Brazil within 50 minutes after an appeal had been lodged against his removal order. In this case the Court considers that the haste with which the removal order was executed had the effect of rendering the available remedies ineffective in practice and therefore inaccessible. The brevity of that time lapse excludes any possibility that the court seriously examined the circumstances and legal arguments in favour of or against a violation of Article 8 of the Convention in the event of the removal order being enforced. Thus, while States are afforded some discretion as to the manner in which they conform to their obligations under Article 13 of the Convention, that discretion must not result, as in the present case, in an applicant being denied access in practice to the minimum procedural safeguards needed to protect him against arbitrary expulsion. Concerning the danger of overloading the courts and adversely affecting the proper administration of justice in French Guiana, the Court reiterates that, as with Article 6 of the Convention, Article 13 imposes on the Contracting States the duty to organise their judicial systems in such a way that their courts can meet its requirements.

- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 22251/07, G.R. v NL [10 Jan. 2012]
- * interpr. of ECHR [Art. 8 + 13]
- * The applicant did not have effective access to the administrative procedure by which he might, subject to fulfilling the conditions prescribed by domestic law, obtain a residence permit which would allow him to reside lawfully with his family in the Netherlands, due to the disproportion between the administrative charge in issue and the actual income of the applicant's family. The Court finds that the extremely formalistic attitude of the Minister – which, endorsed by the Regional Court, also deprived the applicant of access to the competent administrative tribunal – unjustifiably hindered the applicant's use of an otherwise effective domestic remedy. There has therefore been a violation of Article 8 and 13 of the Convention.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 52166/09, Hasanbasic v CH [11 June 2013]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 8]
- * After living in Switzerland for 23 years with a residence permit, the applicant decides to go back to Bosnia. Soon after, he gets seriously ill and wants to get back to his wife who stayed in Switzerland. However, this (family reunification) request is denied mainly because of the fact that he has been on welfare and had been fined (a total of 350 euros) and convicted for several offences (a total of 17 days imprisonment). The court rules that this rejection, given the circumstances of the case, is disproportionate and a violation of article 8.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 22341/09, Hode and Abdi v GB [6 Nov. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 8 + 14]
- * Discrimination on the basis of date of marriage has no objective and reasonable justification.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 55597/09, Nunez v NO [28 June 2011]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 8]
- * Although Ms Nunez was deported from Norway in 1996 with a two-year ban on her re-entry into Norway, she returned to Norway, got married and had two daughters born in 2002 and 2003. It takes until 2005 for the Norwegian authorities to revoke her permits and to decide that Mrs Nunez should be expelled. The Court rules that the authorities had not struck a fair balance between the public interest in ensuring effective immigration control and Ms Nunez's need to remain in Norway in order to continue to have contact with her children.

1.3.4 ECtHR Judgments on Regular Migration

- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 34848/07, O'Donoghue v GB [14 Dec. 2010]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 12 + 14]
- * Judgment of Fourth Section
- * The UK Certificate of Approval required foreigners, except those wishing to marry in the Church of England, to pay large fees to obtain the permission from the Home Office to marry. The Court found that the conditions violated the right to marry (Article 12 of the Convention), that it was discriminatory in its application (Article 14 of the Convention) and that it was discriminatory on the ground of religion (Articles 9 and 14 of the Convention).
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 38058/09, Osman v DK [14 June 2011]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 8]
- * The Court concluded that the denial of admission of a 17 years old Somali girl to Denmark, where she had lived from the age of seven until the age of fifteen, violated Article 8. For a settled migrant who has lawfully spent all of the major part of his or her childhood and youth in a host country, very serious reasons are required to justify expulsion'. The Danish Government had argued that the refusal was justified because the applicant had been taken out of the country by her father, with her mother's permission, in exercise of their rights of parental responsibility. The Court agreed 'that the exercise of parental rights constitutes a fundamental element of family life', but concluded that 'in respecting parental rights, the authorities cannot ignore the child's interest including its own right to respect for private and family life'.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 12020/09, Udeh v CH [16 Apr. 2013]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 8]
- * In 2001 a Nigerian national, was sentenced to four months' imprisonment for possession of a small quantity of cocaine. In 2003 he married a Swiss national who had just given birth to their twin daughters. By virtue of his marriage, he was granted a residence permit in Switzerland. In 2006 he was sentenced to forty-two months' imprisonment in Germany for a drug-trafficking offence. The Swiss Office of Migration refused to renew his residence permit, stating that his criminal conviction and his family's dependence on welfare benefits were grounds for his expulsion. An appeal was dismissed. In 2009 he was informed that he had to leave Switzerland. In 2011 he was made the subject of an order prohibiting him from entering Switzerland until 2020. Although he is divorced in the meantime and custody of the children has been awarded to the mother, he has been given contact rights. The court rules that deportation and exclusion orders would prevent the immigrant with two criminal convictions from seeing his minor children: deportation would constitute a violation of article 8.

☞ Germany: Bundessozialgericht B 14 AS 23/10 R [19 Oct. 2010]

* interpretation of European Convention on Social and Medical Assistance

* <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/Germany/BundessozialgerichtB14AS2310R.pdf>

* A Frenchman lawfully residing as a 'jobseeker' in Germany was entitled to social assistance benefit (Arbeitslosengeld: similar to CJEU C-22/08 Vatsouras) during the period he retained his right as a worker on the basis of art. 7(3)(c) of the Dir. on Free Movement. The question in this case was whether he was still entitled to this benefit after these 6 months as German citizens are. Such a limitation for non-nationals is an implementation of art. 24(2) of the Dir. on Free Movement. However, the German Court decided that the European Convention on Social and Medical Assistance [1953] does not allow such a limitation.

1.3.5 National Judgments on Regular Migration

☞ Germany: BVerwG 1 C 8.09 [30 Mar. 2010]

* interpretation of Dir. 2003/86: Family Reunification Art. 7(2)
interpretation of ECHR Art. 8

* appeal from Berlin Administrative Court, 17 Feb. 2009, VG 35 V 47.08

* <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/Germany/BVerwG1C809.pdf>

* This decision is about the validity of integration measures of family members before arrival in the host Member State. (This case involved an illiterate applicant.) See also BVerwG 1 C 9.10.

☞ Germany: BVerwG 1 C 9.10 [28 Oct. 2011]

* interpretation of Dir. 2003/86: Family Reunification

* appeal from Berlin-Brandenburg Higher Administrative Court, 25 Mar. 2010

* <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/Germany/BVerwG1C910.pdf>

* *Regarding the position of the European Commission taken in the case Imran (see CJEU 155/11 in the previous section) that a certain language level as a condition for admission is not in compliance with the directive, a preliminary ruling of the Court of Justice would have been necessary in this case. However it was finished by granting the claimed residence permits and the decision was only on the costs. But the importance of the decision lies in the fact that German Court - in difference from its previous judgment of 30 March 2010 (BVerwG 1 C 8.09) - now regards it necessary to make a reference to the CJEU on the question whether the language requirement is in compliance with the Family Reunification Directive.*

☞ Germany: BVerwG 10 C 12.12 [4 Sep. 2012]

* interpretation of Dir. 2003/86: Family Reunification Art. 8

* appeal from VG Berlin, 1 Aug. 2011, VG 22 K 340.09 V

* <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/Germany/BVerwG10C1212.pdf>

* The German pre-entry language requirement is in compliance with art. 6 German Constitution and art. 8 ECHR, as long as the measure is proportional in the individual case. In case of a third country national with a German partner, this principle of proportionality is violated earlier than in case of both partners being third country nationals, because the German Constitution guarantees the right to residence to German citizens. Even if the German has also the Afghan nationality he can't be expected to live with his family life outside Germany. Therefore the spouse may enter Germany even without passing the language test if he or she has shown efforts to learn the language, but has not succeeded within a year's time. This period of one year does not need to be fulfilled if there are no courses (or alternatives) available or if participation in a course implies a high security risk. A German citizen who did not use the EU right to free movement, cannot rely on art. 9 Charter of Fundamental Rights, as Union law is not applicable. In this regard the court refers to art. 3(3) Dir. 2003/86, which excludes Union citizens. According to the court, this explicit exclusion in the directive justifies a different interpretation of the personal scope than the scope of Decision 1/80, as interpreted by the CJEU in the case Kahveci and Inan (C-7/10 and C-9/10).

- ☞ Germany: BVerwG 10 C 4.12 [29 Dec. 2012]
- * interpretation of Dir. 2003/86: Family Reunification Art. 17
- * In a family reunification case, the Federal Administrative Court decided that, following the Chakroun judgment of the CJEU, the level of income that can be required from the sponsor, also depends on the actual needs of the family as a whole. If the necessary income level is not fully ensured, Article 17 of the Family Reunification Directive requires a further individual assessment if there are reasons to derogate from the formal income requirement. This assessment is in any case subject of a full judicial scrutiny.
- ☞ Germany: VerwG Berlin VG 29 K 138.12V [25 Oct. 2012]
- * interpretation of Dir. 2003/86: Family Reunification Art. 7(2)
- * The Verwaltungsgericht (Administrative Court) of Berlin asked, first, whether passing the language test as a condition for family reunification was in compliance with the standstill clauses in the EEC-Turkey Association law and, second, whether it was in compliance with Article 7(2) of the Family Reunification Directive.
- ☞ Ireland: Casha Digale [2013] IEHC 25 [22 Jan. 2013]
- * interpretation of Dir. 2003/86: Family Reunification Art. 4+10
<http://www.bailii.org/ie/cases/IEHC/2013/H25.html>
- * A beneficiary of refugee status sought family reunification unsuccessfully for her niece and nephew who she referred to as her own children; who had been orphaned; and whom she was not capable of formally adopting owing to the absence of available procedures in Somalia or where they were living in Ethiopia. The children had attained the age of majority after the Application had been made, but prior to a decision. The Minister refused family reunification on the basis that they were not dependent.
The Applicant was successful in her Judicial Review as the Court found that the Minister had erred in restricting the assessment of dependency to the narrow issue of being financially dependent. Dependency should take into account all relevant social, economic, personal, physical, emotional and cultural bonds between the refugee and family member being considered. Furthermore the Minister did not conduct a proper investigation as to what would be objectively required to amount to dependency, and appeared to carry out “no more than an arbitrary evaluation based on no identified criteria”.
- ☞ Netherlands: Raad van State 201008782/1/V1 [9 Oct. 2012]
- * violation of Dir. 2003/86: Family Reunification
- * <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/Netherlands/RaadvanState2010087821V1.pdf>
- * The Dutch Council of State (highest administrative court) decided that the CJEU judgment on the Dutch fees for long term residents (26 April 2012, case C-508/10, Commission against the Netherlands), which the Court considered as ‘extraordinary high’, and therefore not in compliance with (the objective of) Directive 2003/109, also has repercussions for the level of fees for family reunification. According to the Council of State, the high level can also constitute an obstacle for the exercise of the right to family reunification and therefore violate Directive 2003/86, undermining its objective.
- ☞ Netherlands: Rb Den Haag zp Den Bosch AWB 12/9408 [23 Nov. 2012]
- * interpretation of Dir. 2003/86: Family Reunification Art. 7(2)
- * <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/Netherlands/RbDenHaagzpDenBoschAWB129408.pdf>
- * Dutch District Court fully endorses the position of the European Commission taken in the Imran case (C-155/11) that the denial of family reunification for the sole reason that the applicant has failed the integration test abroad, is not in compliance with Article 7(2) of the Directive. According to this court, a request for a preliminary ruling was not necessary as the interpretation of the Commission was crystal clear.

- * interpretation of ECHR Art. 8
- * <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/UK/MHMorocco.2010.UKUT439IAC.pdf>
- * A refusal to adjourn proceedings before the Tribunal may have similar consequence as a decision to remove an applicant in the process of seeking a contact order: a violation of art. 8 ECHR.

- ☞ United Kingdom: Quila SC [2011]UKSC45 [12 Oct. 2011]
  - * interpretation of ECHR Art. 8
  - * <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/UK/QuilaSC.2011.UKSC45.pdf>
  - * These two cases concern the application of Rule 277 of the Immigration Rules (HC 395) under which the spouse or civil partner of a British national or someone settled in the UK is prevented from entering and settling in the UK if either party is under the age of 21. A parallel rule applies to fiancés and unmarried or same-sex partners. Although it was clear that the marriage was not a forced marriage, the applicants had to leave the UK in order to have a family life. The Supreme Court held that the rule was “rationally connected to the objective of deterring forced marriages (...) but the number of forced marriages which it deters is highly debatable. What seems clear is that the number of unforced marriages which it obstructs from their intended development for up to three years vastly exceeds the number of forced marriages which it deters”. The Court concluded that the Secretary of State had failed to establish that the interference with the rights of the respondents under Article 8, which protects the right to private life, that had been caused by the rule was justified.

- ☞ United Kingdom: ZH (Tanzania) SC [2011]UKSC4 [1 Feb. 2011]
  - * interpretation of UN Convention on the Rights of the Child
  - * <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/UK/ZH.Tanzania.SC.2011.UKSC4.pdf>
  - * The Supreme Court had to decide what the UK’s obligation to respect the best interests of the child means in the context of British national children of a foreign mother who is subject to a deportation decision. The SC finds that the children’s interest to live in their country of nationality, at least in this case, outweighs the public interest in the deportation of the mother. The SC does not refer to EU law but finds that expulsion can be contrary to the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.

- * The Schengen Borders Code must be interpreted as not precluding national legislation, such as that at issue in the main proceedings, which enables officials responsible for border surveillance and the monitoring of foreign nationals to carry out checks, in a geographic area 20 kilometres from the land border between a MS and the State parties to the CISA, with a view to establishing whether the persons stopped satisfy the requirements for lawful residence applicable in the MS concerned, when those checks are based on general information and experience regarding the illegal residence of persons at the places where the checks are to be made, when they may also be carried out to a limited extent in order to obtain such general information and experience-based data in that regard, and when the carrying out of those checks is subject to certain limitations concerning, inter alia, their intensity and frequency.

- * interpr. of Reg. 562/2006, Borders Code [Art. 13 + 5(4)(a)]
- * annulment of national legislation on visa
- * Article 5(4)(a) must be interpreted as meaning that a MS which issues to a TCN a re-entry visa within the meaning of that provision cannot limit entry into the Schengen area solely to points of entry to its national territory.
The principles of legal certainty and protection of legitimate expectations did not require the provision of transitional measures for the benefit of TCNs who had left the territory of a MS when they were holders of temporary residence permits issued pending examination of a first application for a residence permit or an application for asylum and wanted to return to that territory (after the entry into force of this Regulation)

- * Whether penalties can be applied in the case of foreign nationals in possession of a visa which was obtained by deception from a competent authority of another Member State but has not yet been annulled pursuant to the regulation.
- ☞ CJEU C-355/10, EP v Council [5 Sep. 2012]
- * violation of Reg. 562/2006, Borders Code
- * annulment of measure supplementing Borders Code
- * The CJEU decided to annul Council Decision 2010/252 of 26 April 2010 supplementing the Borders Code as regards the surveillance of the sea external borders in the context of operational cooperation coordinated by the European Agency for the Management of Operational Cooperation at the External Borders of the Member States of the European Union. According to the Court, this decision contains essential elements of the surveillance of the sea external borders of the Member States which go beyond the scope of the additional measures within the meaning of Art. 12(5) of the Borders Code. As only the European Union legislature was entitled to adopt such a decision, this could not have been decided by comitology. Furthermore the Court ruled that the effects of decision 2010/252 maintain until the entry into force of new rules within a reasonable time.

- * Member States are not obliged to expel a third-country national who is unlawfully present on the territory of a Member State because the conditions of duration of stay are not or no longer fulfilled
- * Where a TCN is unlawfully present on the territory of a MS because he or she does not fulfil, or no longer fulfils, the conditions of duration of stay applicable there, that MS is not obliged to adopt a decision to expel that person.
- ☞ CJEU C-430/10, Gaydarov [17 Nov. 2011]
- * interpr. of Reg. 562/2006, Borders Code
- * Reg. does not preclude national legislation that permits the restriction of the right of a national of a MS to travel to another MS in particular on the ground that he has been convicted of a criminal offence of narcotic drug trafficking in another State, provided that (i) the personal conduct of that national constitutes a genuine, present and sufficiently serious threat affecting one of the fundamental interests of society, (ii) the restrictive measure envisaged is appropriate to ensure the achievement of the objective it pursues and does not go beyond what is necessary to attain it and (iii) that measure is subject to effective judicial review permitting a determination of its legality as regards matters of fact and law in the light of the requirements of European Union law.

- * interpr. of Reg. 810/2009, Visa Code [Art. 23(4) + 32(1)]
- * Art. 23(4), 32(1) and 35(6) must be interpreted as meaning that the competent authorities of a MS cannot refuse a visa to an applicant unless one of the grounds for refusal of a visa listed in those provisions can be applied to that applicant. In the examinations of those conditions and the relevant facts, authorities have a wide discretion. The obligation to issue a uniform visa is subject to the condition that there is no reasonable doubt that the applicant intends to leave the territory of the Member States before the expiry of the visa applied for.

- * interpr. of Reg. 1931/2006, Local Border traffic [Art. 2(a) + 3(3)]

- * The holder of a local border traffic permit must be able to move freely within the border area for a period of three months if his stay is uninterrupted and to have a new right to a three-month stay each time that his stay is interrupted. There is such an interruption of stay upon the crossing of the border irrespective of the frequency of such crossings, even if they occur several times daily.

- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 55352/12, Aden Ahmed v MAL [23 July 2013]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 3 + 5]
- * The case concerns a migrant who had entered Malta in an irregular manner by boat. The ECtHR found a violation of art. 5(1), mainly due to the failure of the Maltese authorities to pursue deportation or to do so with due diligence, and of art. 5(4) due to absence of an effective and speedy domestic remedy to challenge the lawfulness of their detention. Also, the ECtHR requested the Maltese authorities (Art. 46) to establish a mechanism allowing a determination of the lawfulness of immigration detention within a reasonable time-limit. In this case the Court for the first time found Malta in violation of art. 3 because of the immigration detention conditions. Those conditions in which the applicant had been living for 14½ months were, taken as a whole, amounted to degrading treatment.

New

- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 53608/11, B.M. v GRE [19 Dec. 2013]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 3 + 13]
- * The applicant was an Iranian journalist who alleged to have been arrested and tortured due to his involvement in protests against the government. After his arrival in Greece a decision had been taken to return him to Turkey, and he had been held in custody in a police station and in various detention centres. His application for asylum was first not registered by the Greek authorities, and later they dismissed the application. The application mainly concerned the conditions of detention, in particular overcrowding, unhygienic conditions, lack of external contact, and lack of access to telephone, translators and any kind of information. Referring to its previous case law, the ECtHR held these conditions to be in violation of Art. 3. As there had been no effective domestic remedy against that situation, Art. 13 in combination with art. 3 had also been violated.

2.3.3 ECtHR Judgments on Borders and Visas

- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 27765/09, Hirsi v IT [21 Feb. 2012]
  - * violation of ECHR [Art. 3 + 13]
  - * The Court concluded that the decision of the Italian authorities to send TCNs - who were intercepted outside the territorial waters of Italy - back to Libya, had exposed them to the risk of ill-treatment there, as well as to the risk of ill-treatment if they were sent back to their countries of origin (Somalia and Eritrea). For the first time the Court applied Article 4 of Protocol no. 4 (prohibition of collective expulsion) in the circumstance of aliens who were not physically present on the territory of the State, but in the high seas. Italy was also held responsible for exposing the aliens to a treatment in violation with Article 3 ECHR, as it transferred them to Libya 'in full knowledge of the facts' and circumstances in Libya. The Court also concluded that they had had no effective remedy in Italy against the alleged violations (Art. 13).
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 11463/09, Samaras v GR [28 Feb. 2012]
  - * violation of ECHR [Art. 3]
  - * The conditions of detention of the applicants – one Somali and twelve Greek nationals – at Ioannina prison were held to constitute degrading treatment in violation of ECHR art. 3.

  - * appeal from Berlin-Brandenburg Higher Administrative Court, 18 Dec. 2009
  - * <http://cmr.jur.ru.nl/nemis/Germany/BVerwG1C110.pdf>
  - * A Moroccan national seeks a Schengen visa to visit her two minor children living with her father in Germany. The visa is denied, primarily based on the assumption that there is no specific credible prospect of return. Although the court states that the child's personal contact and continuity of emotional bonds with both parents serve as a general rule toward developing the child's personality, the court does not find the denial of the visa disproportionate because the maintenance of family ties can be realised through other means and visits outside Germany.

- * nothing to report
- ☞ CJEU C-329/11, Achughbabian [6 Dec. 2011]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115, Return Directive
- * The directive precludes national legislation permitting the imprisonment of an illegally staying third-country national who has not (yet) been subject to the coercive measures provided for in the directive and has not, if detained with a view to be returned, reached the expiry of the maximum duration of that detention. The directive does not preclude penal sanctions being imposed after full application of the return procedure established by that directive.

- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115, Return Directive [Art. 2(2)(b) + 11]
- * Directive must be interpreted as precluding a MS from providing that an expulsion or removal order which predates by five years or more the period between the date on which that directive should have been implemented and the date on which it was implemented, may subsequently be used as a basis for criminal proceedings, where that order was based on a criminal law sanction (within the meaning of Article 2(2)(b)) and where that MS exercised the discretion provided for under that provision.

- * An Iranian entering Greece from Turkey had initially not been registered as an asylum seeker by the Greek authorities, which ordered his return to Turkey. However, the Turkish authorities refused to readmit him into Turkey, and he was then detained by the Greek police. Against the background of reports from Greek and international organisations, having visited the relevant police detention facilities either during the applicant's detention or shortly after his release – including the European Committee for the Prevention of Torture, the UN Special Rapporteur on Torture, the German NGO ProAsyl and the Greek National Human Rights Commission – the ECtHR found a violation of art. 3 due to the serious lack of space available to the applicant, also taking the duration of his detention into account. It was thus unnecessary for the Court to examine the applicant's other allegations concerning the detention conditions (art 5 ECHR) which the Government disputed. Yet, the Court noted that the Government's statements in this regard were not in accordance with the findings of the abovementioned organisations.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 13058/11 , Abdelhakim v HU [23 Oct. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 5]
- * This case concerns unlawful detention, without effective judicial review, of an asylum seeker during the examination of his asylum application. The applicant was a Palestinian who had been stopped at the Hungarian border control for using a forged passport.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 50520/09 , Ahmade v GR [25 Sep. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 5]
- * The conditions of detention of the applicant Afghan asylum seeker in two police stations in Athens were found to constitute degrading treatment in breach of ECHR art. 3. Since Greek law did not allow the courts to examine the conditions of detention in centres for irregular immigrants, the applicant did not have an effective remedy in that regard, in violation of ECHR art. 13 taken together with art. 3.
- The Court found an additional violation of ECHR art. 13 taken together with art. 3, resulting from the structural deficiencies of the Greek asylum system, as evidenced by the period during which the applicant had been awaiting the outcome of his appeal against the refusal of asylum, and the risk that he might be deported before his asylum appeal had been examined.*
- ECHR art. 5 para. 4 was violated due to the lack of judicial competence to review the lawfulness of the deportation constituting the legal basis of detention.*
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 13457/11 , Ali Said v HU [23 Oct. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 5]
- * This case concerns unlawful detention, without effective judicial review, of an asylum seeker during the examination of his asylum application. The applicants were Iraqi nationals who illegally entered Hungary, applied for asylum and then travelled illegally to the Netherlands from where they were transferred back to Hungary under the Dublin Regulation.

- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 27765/09, Hirsi v IT [21 Feb. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Prot. 4 Art. 4]
- * The Court concluded that the decision of the Italian authorities to send TCNs - who were intercepted outside the territorial waters of Italy - back to Libya, had exposed them to the risk of ill-treatment there, as well as to the risk of ill-treatment if they were sent back to their countries of origin (Somalia and Eritrea). They also had been subjected to collective expulsion prohibited by Art. 4 of Protocol No. 4. The Court also concluded that they had had no effective remedy in Italy against the alleged violations.

3.3.3 ECtHR Judgments on Irregular Migration

- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 10816/10, Lokpo & Touré v HU [20 Sep. 2011]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 5]
- * The applicants entered Hungary illegally. After their arrest and during subsequent detention they applied for asylum. They were kept however in detention. The Court ruled that Article 5 § 1 (right to liberty and security) was violated, stating that the absence of elaborate reasoning for an applicant's deprivation of liberty renders that measure incompatible with the requirement of lawfulness.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 14902/10, Mahmundi v GR [31 July 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 5]
- * The conditions of detention of the applicants – Afghan nationals, subsequently seeking asylum in Norway, who had been detained in the Pagani detention centre upon being rescued from a sinking boat by the maritime police – were held to be in violation of ECHR art. 3. In the specific circumstances of this case the treatment during 18 days of detention was considered not only degrading, but also inhuman, mainly due to the fact that the applicants' children had also been detained, some of them separated from their parents. In addition, a female applicant had been in the final stages of pregnancy and had received insufficient medical assistance and no information about the place of her giving birth and what would happen to her and her child. ECHR art. 13, taken together with art. 3, had been violated by the impossibility for the applicants to take any action before the courts to complain of their conditions of detention. ECHR art. 5 para. 4 was violated due to the lack of judicial competence to review the lawfulness of the deportation that constitutes the legal basis for detention.

3.3.4 National Judgments on Irregular Migration

- * Art. 7 means that a Turkish national who enjoys certain rights, does not lose those rights on account of his divorce, which took place after those rights were acquired.
By contrast, Art. 14(1) does not preclude a measure ordering the expulsion of a Turkish national who has been convicted of criminal offences, provided that his personal conduct constitutes a present, genuine and sufficiently serious threat to a fundamental interest of society. It is for the competent national court to assess whether that is the case in the main proceedings.

Lives Lost Report of Parliamentary Assembly of COE

* On 29 Mar. 2012, the Committee on Migration, Refugees and Population of the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe, adopted Resolution 1872 (2012), based on the report: "Lives lost in the Mediterranean Sea: who is responsible?" This report was presented on 29 March 2012 by rapporteur Tineke Strik as a member of the Committee on Migration, Refugees and Population of the Assembly.

The starting point for the resolution and of the report is that at least 1500 people are known to have lost their lives attempting to cross the Mediterranean in 2011. This report however focuses on one particularly harrowing case in which a small boat left Tripoli with 72 people on board and after two weeks at sea drifted back to Libya with only nine survivors. No one went to the aid of this boat, despite a distress call logged by the Italian Maritime Rescue Coordination Centre, which pinpointed the boat's position.
