Editorial

Welcome to the third edition of NEMIS in 2015.

In this issue we would like to draw your attention to the following.

In order to simplify the usage of this Newsletter, we have added direct links to each and every measure, judgment or pending case. This means that clicking on the link will open the appropriate page in your browser.

Language requirements

On 9th July 2015, the CJEU ruled for the first time on the admissibility of an integration requirement for the right to family reunification. In the case K&A (C-153/14), the Court ruled that an examination abroad is allowed, but only under certain conditions. The principles of proportionality and effectiveness require that the examination is suitable for achieving the objective of promoting integration and does not go beyond what is necessary to achieve that aim. It must not aim or have the effect of selecting spouses nor systematically prevent family reunification of spouses who have demonstrated their willingness and made efforts to pass the examination, but nevertheless failed.

Member States are therefore obliged to take specific individual circumstances into consideration, such as the age, illiteracy, level of education, economic situation or health of the spouse, if he or she is unable to take or pass the examination due to those circumstances. In the case of the Netherlands, the Court ruled that the very strict hardship clause (in which only a combination of very special circumstances could lead to an exemption) could form an obstacle for exercising the right to family reunification. The Court also ruled that also the costs for taking and preparing for the examination must not aim, nor have the effect of, making family reunification impossible or excessively difficult. In the case of the Netherlands, the Court ruled that the costs involved in taking the examination are too high.

About

NEMIS is a newsletter designed for judges who need to keep up to date with EU developments in migration and borders law. This newsletter contains all European legislation and jurisprudence on access and residence rights of third country nationals, as well as relevant national judgments on the interpretation of this legislation. NEMIS does not include jurisprudence on free movement or asylum. We would like to refer to a separate Newsletter on that issue, the Newsletter on European Asylum Issues (NEAIS).

This Newsletter is part of the CMR, Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence Work Programme 2015-2018

1.2 Regular Migration: Proposed Measures

Directive	Researchers and Students (recast)
On the conditions of entry and residence of Third-Country Nationals for the purposes of research, studies, pupil exchange, remunerated and unremunerated training, voluntary service and au pairing.
* COM (2013) 151, 25 March 2013
* This directive will replace both Dir 2005/71 on Researchers and Dir 2004/114 on Students Council and EP -still- negotiating, May 2015

1.3 Regular Migration: Jurisprudence case law sorted in alphabetical order

1.3.1 CJEU Judgments on Regular Migration

☞ CJEU C-491/13 Ben Alaya [10 Sep. 2014]
* interpr. of Dir. 2004/114 Students [Art. 6 + 7]
* The MS concerned is obliged to admit to its territory a third-country national who wishes to stay for more than three months in that territory for study purposes, where that national meets the conditions for admission exhaustively listed in Art. 6 and 7 and provided that that MS does not invoke against that person one of the grounds expressly listed by the directive as justification for refusing a residence permit.
New ☞ CJEU C-309/14 CGIL [2 Sep. 2015]
* interpr. of Dir. 2003/109 Long-Term Resident
* Italian national legislation has set a minimum fee for a residence permit, which is around eight times the charge for the issue of a national identity card. Such a fee is disproportionate in the light of the objective pursued by the directive and is liable to create an obstacle to the exercise of the rights conferred by the directive.

☞ CJEU C-578/08 Chakroun [4 Mar. 2010]

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86 Family Reunification [Art. 7(1)(c) + 2(d)]

* The concept of family reunification allows no distinction based on the time of marriage. Furthermore, Member States may not require an income as a condition for family reunification, which is higher than the national minimum wage level. Admission conditions allowed by the directive, serve as indicators, but should not be applied rigidly, i.e. all individual circumstances should be taken into account.

☞ CJEU C-568/10 Comm. v. Austria (deleted) [22 Nov. 2011]

* incor. appl. of Dir. 2004/114 Students [Art. 17(1)]

* Austrian law systematically denies TCN students access to the labour market. They are issued a work permit for a vacant position only if a check has been previously carried out as to whether the position cannot be filled by a person registered as unemployed.

☞ CJEU C-508/10 Comm. v. Netherlands [26 Apr. 2012]

* incor. appl. of Dir. 2003/109 Long-Term Resident

* The Court rules that the Netherlands has failed to fulfil its obligations by applying excessive and disproportionate administrative fees which are liable to create an obstacle to the exercise of the rights conferred by the Long-Term Residents Directive: (1) to TCNs seeking long-term resident status in the Netherlands, (2) to those who, having acquired that status in a MS other than the Kingdom of the Netherlands, are seeking to exercise the right to reside in that MS, and (3) to members of their families seeking authorisation to accompany or join them.

☞ CJEU C-523/08 Comm. v. Spain [11 Feb. 2010]

* non-transp. of Dir. 2005/71 Researchers

☞ CJEU C-138/13 Dogan (Naime) [10 July 2014]

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86 Family Reunification [Art. 7(2)]

* The language requirement abroad is not in compliance with the standstill clauses of the Association Agreement. Although the question was also raised whether this requirement is in compliance with the Family Reunification Directive, the Court did not answer that question.

However, paragraph 38 of the judgment could also have implications for its forthcoming answer on the compatibility of the language test with the Family Reunification: "on the assumption that the grounds set out by the German Government, namely the prevention of forced marriages and the promotion of integration, can constitute overriding reasons in the public interest, it remains the case that a national provision such as that at issue in the main proceedings goes beyond what is necessary in order to attain the objective pursued, in so far as the absence of evidence of sufficient linguistic knowledge automatically leads to the dismissal of the application for family reunification, without account being taken of the specific circumstances of each case".

In this context it is relevant that the European Commission has stressed in its Communication on guidance for the application of Dir 2003/86, "that the objective of such measures is to facilitate the integration of family members. Their admissibility depends on whether they serve this purpose and whether they respect the principle of proportionality" (COM (2014)210, § 4.5).

☞ CJEU C-540/03 EP v. Council [27 June 2006]

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86 Family Reunification [Art. 8]

* The derogation clauses (3 years waiting period and the age-limits for children) are not annulled, as they do not constitute a violation of article 8 ECHR. However, while applying these clauses and the directive as a whole, Member States are bound by the fundamental rights (including the rights of the child), the purpose of the directive and obligation to take all individual interests into account.

☞ CJEU C-40/11 Iida [8 Nov. 2012]

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/109 Long-Term Resident [Art. 7(1)]

* In order to acquire long-term resident status, the third-country national concerned must lodge an application with the competent authorities of the Member State in which he resides. If this application is voluntarily withdrawn, a residence permit can not be granted.

☞ CJEU C-155/11 Imran (no adj.) [10 June 2011]

* interpr. of Dir. 2003/86 Family Reunification [Art. 7(2)]

* The Commission took the position that Art. 7(2) does not allow MSs to deny a family member as meant in Art. 4(1)(a) of a lawfully residing TCN entry and admission on the sole ground of not having passed a civic integration examination abroad. However, as a residence permit was granted just before the hearing would take place, the Court decided it was not necessary to give a ruling.

- New ☞ CJEU C-153/14 K. & A. [9 July 2015]
 * interpr. of Dir. 2003/86 Family Reunification [Art. 7(2)]
 * Member States may require TCNs to pass a civic integration examination, which consists in an assessment of basic knowledge both of the language of the Member State concerned and of its society and which entails the payment of various costs, before authorising that national's entry into and residence in the territory of the Member State for the purposes of family reunification, provided that the conditions of application of such a requirement do not make it impossible or excessively difficult to exercise the right to family reunification.
In circumstances such as those of the cases in the main proceedings, in so far as they do not allow regard to be had to special circumstances objectively forming an obstacle to the applicants passing the examination and in so far as they set the fees relating to such an examination at too high a level, those conditions make the exercise of the right to family reunification impossible or excessively difficult.
- ☞ CJEU C-257/13 Mlalali (inadm.) [14 Nov. 2013]
 * interpr. of Dir. 2003/109 Long-Term Resident [Art. 11(1)(d)]
 * Case (on equal treatment) was inadmissible
- ☞ CJEU C-338/13 Noorzia [17 July 2014]
 * interpr. of Dir. 2003/86 Family Reunification [Art. 4(5)]
 * Art. 4(5) does not preclude a rule of national law requiring that spouses and registered partners must have reached the age of 21 by the date when the application seeking to be considered family members entitled to reunification is lodged.
- ☞ CJEU C-356/11 O. & S. [6 Dec. 2012]
 * interpr. of Dir. 2003/86 Family Reunification [Art. 7(1)(c)]
 * When examining an application for family reunification, a MS has to do so in the interests of the children concerned and also with a view to promoting family life, and avoiding any undermining of the objective and the effectiveness of the directive.
- New ☞ CJEU C-527/14 Oruche (deleted) [2 Sep. 2015]
 * interpr. of Dir. 2003/86 Family Reunification [Art. 7(2)]
 * Case is withdrawn since the question was answered in the judgment in the K&A case (C-153/14).
- ☞ CJEU C-579/13 P. & S. [4 June 2015]
 * interpr. of Dir. 2003/109 Long-Term Resident [Art. 5 + 11]
 * Article 5(2) and Article 11(1) do not preclude national legislation, such as that at issue in the main proceedings, which imposes on TCNs who already possess long-term resident status the obligation to pass a civic integration examination, under pain of a fine, provided that the means of implementing that obligation are not liable to jeopardise the achievement of the objectives pursued by that directive, which it is for the referring court to determine. Whether the long-term resident status was acquired before or after the obligation to pass a civic integration examination was imposed is irrelevant in that respect.
- ☞ CJEU C-294/06 Payir [24 Nov. 2008]
 * interpr. of Dir. 2004/114 Students
 * On a working Turkish student.
- ☞ CJEU C-571/10 Servet Kamberaj [24 Apr. 2012]
 * interpr. of Dir. 2003/109 Long-Term Resident [Art. 11(1)(d)]
 * EU Law precludes a distinction on the basis of ethnicity or linguistic groups in order to be eligible for housing benefit.
- ☞ CJEU C-502/10 Singh [18 Oct. 2012]
 * interpr. of Dir. 2003/109 Long-Term Resident [Art. 3(2)(e)]
 * The concept of 'residence permit which has been formally limited' as referred to in Art. 3(2)(e), does not include a fixed-period residence permit, granted to a specific group of persons, if the validity of their permit can be extended indefinitely without offering the prospect of permanent residence rights. The referring national court has to ascertain if a formal limitation does not prevent the long-term residence of the third-country national in the Member State concerned. If that is the case, this national cannot be excluded from the personal scope of Directive 2003/109.
- ☞ CJEU C-15/11 Sommer [21 June 2012]
 * interpr. of Dir. 2004/114 Students [Art. 17(3)]

- * The conditions of access to the labour market by Bulgarian students, may not be more restrictive than those set out in the Directive

☞ CJEU C-469/13 Tahir [17 July 2014]

- * interpr. of Dir. 2003/109 Long-Term Resident [Art. 7(1) + 13]

- * *Family members of a person who has already acquired LTR status may not be exempted from the condition laid down in Article 4(1), under which, in order to obtain that status, a TCN must have resided legally and continuously in the MS concerned for five years immediately prior to the submission of the relevant application.  * no violation of ECHR [Art. 8]
 * A case similar to Nunez (ECtHR 28 June 2011) except that de judgment is not unanimous (2 dissenting opinions). Mr Antwi from Ghana migrates in 1988 to Germany on a false Portuguese passport. In Germany he meets his future wife (also from Ghana) who lives in Norway and is naturalised to Norwegian nationality. Mr Antwi moves to Norway to live with her and their first child is born in 2001 in Norway. In 2005 the parents marry in Ghana and subsequently it is discovered that mr Antwi travels on a false passport. In Norway mr Antwi goes to trial and is expelled to Ghana with a five year re-entry ban. The Court does not find that the Norwegian authorities acted arbitrarily or otherwise transgressed the margin of appreciation which should be accorded to it in this area when seeking to strike a fair balance between its public interest in ensuring effective immigration control, on the one hand, and the applicants' need that the first applicant be able to remain in Norway, on the other hand.

 * violation of ECHR [Art. 8]
 * Expulsion of one of the spouses is a serious obstacle to family life for the remaining spouse and children in the context of article 8. In this case the ECtHR establishes guiding principles in order to examine whether such a measure is necessary in a democratic society. Relevant criteria are:
 - the nature and seriousness of the offence committed by the applicant;
 - the length of the applicant's stay in the country from which he is going to be expelled;
 - the time elapsed since the offence was committed as well as the applicant's conduct in that period;
 - the nationalities of the various persons concerned;
 - the applicant's family situation, such as the length of the marriage;
 - and other factors expressing the effectiveness of a couple's family life;
 - whether the spouse knew about the offence at the time when he or she entered into a family relationship;
 - and whether there are children in the marriage, and if so, their age.
Not least, the Court will also consider the seriousness of the difficulties which the spouse is likely to encounter in the country of origin, though the mere fact that a person might face certain difficulties in accompanying her or his spouse cannot in itself exclude an expulsion.

 * violation of ECHR [Art. 8]
 * At the age of 3 and 4, the Butt children enter Norway with their mother from Pakistan in 1989. They receive a residence permit on humanitarian grounds. After a couple of years the mother returns with the children to Pakistan without knowledge of the Norwegian authorities. After a couple years the mother travels - again - back to Norway to continue living there. The children are 10 and 11 years old. When the father of the children wants to live also in Norway, a new investigation shows that the family has lived both in Norway and in Pakistan and their residence permit is withdrawn. However, the expulsion of the children is not carried out. Years later, their deportation is discussed again. The mother has already died and the adult children still do not have any contact with their father in Pakistan. Their ties with Pakistan are so weak and reversely with Norway so strong that their expulsion is would entail a violation of art. 8.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 22689/07 De Souza Ribeiro v. UK [13 Dec. 2012]
 * violation of ECHR [Art. 8 + 13]
 * A Brazilian in French Guiana was removed to Brazil within 50 minutes after an appeal had been lodged against his removal order. In this case the Court considers that the haste with which the removal order was executed had the effect of rendering the available remedies ineffective in practice and therefore inaccessible. The brevity of that time lapse excludes any possibility that the court seriously examined the circumstances and legal arguments in favour of or against a violation of Article 8 of the Convention in the event of the removal order being enforced. Thus, while States are afforded some discretion as to the manner in which they conform to their obligations under Article 13 of the Convention, that discretion must not result, as in the present case, in an applicant being denied access in practice to the minimum procedural safeguards needed to protect him against arbitrary expulsion. Concerning the danger of overloading the courts and adversely affecting the proper administration of justice in French Guiana, the Court reiterates that, as with Article 6 of the Convention, Article 13 imposes on the Contracting States the duty to organise their judicial systems in such a way that their courts can meet its requirements.

In this case the Italian Supreme Court did not answer the question at all.

☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 22251/07 G.R. v. NL [10 Jan. 2012]

* violation of ECHR [Art. 8 + 13]

* The applicant did not have effective access to the administrative procedure by which he might, subject to fulfilling the conditions prescribed by domestic law, obtain a residence permit which would allow him to reside lawfully with his family in the Netherlands, due to the disproportion between the administrative charge in issue and the actual income of the applicant's family. The Court finds that the extremely formalistic attitude of the Minister – which, endorsed by the Regional Court, also deprived the applicant of access to the competent administrative tribunal – unjustifiably hindered the applicant's use of an otherwise effective domestic remedy. There has therefore been a violation of Article 8 and 13 of the Convention.

However, this (family reunification) request is denied mainly because of the fact that he has been on welfare and had been fined (a total of 350 euros) and convicted for several offences (a total of 17 days imprisonment). The court rules that this rejection, given the circumstances of the case, is disproportionate and a violation of article 8.

* violation of ECHR [Art. 8]

* The central issue in this case is whether, bearing in mind the margin of appreciation afforded to States in immigration matters, a fair balance has been struck between the competing interests at stake, namely the personal interests of the applicant, her husband and their children in maintaining their family life in the Netherlands on the one hand and, on the other, the public order interests of the respondent Government in controlling immigration. In view of the particular circumstances of the case, it is questionable whether general immigration policy considerations of themselves can be regarded as sufficient justification for refusing the applicant residence in the Netherlands.

- * violation of ECHR [Art. 8]
- * The child's best interests, from a personal development perspective, will depend on a variety of individual circumstances, in particular his age and level of maturity, the presence or absence of his parents and his environment and experiences. For that reason, those best interests must be assessed in each individual case. To that end they enjoy a certain margin of appreciation, which remains subject, however, to a European supervision whereby the Court reviews under the Convention the decisions that those authorities have taken in the exercise of that power. In this case the Court notes that the child has Swiss nationality and that he arrived in the country in June 2005 at the age of two. He has been living there continuously ever since. He now goes to school in Switzerland and speaks French. Even though he is at an age where he still has a certain capacity for adaptation, the fact of being uprooted again from his habitual environment would probably have serious consequences for him, especially if he returns on his own, as indicated in the medical reports. His return to Israel cannot therefore be regarded as beneficial.

For a settled migrant who has lawfully spent all of the major part of his or her childhood and youth in a host country, very serious reasons are required to justify expulsion'. The Danish Government had argued that the refusal was justified because the applicant had been taken out of the country by her father, with her mother's permission, in exercise of their rights of parental responsibility. The Court agreed 'that* the exercise of parental rights constitutes a fundamental element of family life’, but concluded that ‘in respecting parental rights, the authorities cannot ignore the child’s interest including its own right to respect for private and family life’.

In 2003 he married a Swiss national who had just given birth to their twin daughters. By virtue of his marriage, he was granted a residence permit in Switzerland. In 2006 he was sentenced to forty-two months’ imprisonment in Germany for a drug-trafficking offence. The Swiss Office of Migration refused to renew his residence permit, stating that his criminal conviction and his family’s dependence on welfare benefits were grounds for his expulsion. An appeal was dismissed. In 2009 he was informed that he had to leave Switzerland. In 2011 he was made the subject of an order prohibiting him from entering Switzerland until 2020. Although he is divorced in the meantime and custody of the children has been awarded to the mother, he has been given contact rights. The court rules that deportation and exclusion orders would prevent the immigrant with two criminal convictions from seeing his minor children: deportation would constitute a violation of article 8.*

☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 46410/99 Üner v. NL [18 Oct. 2006]

* violation of ECHR [Art. 8]

* The expulsion of an alien raises a problem within the context of art. 8 ECHR if that alien has a family whom he has to leave behind. In Boultif (54273/00) the Court elaborated the relevant criteria which it would use in order to assess whether an expulsion measure was necessary in a democratic society and proportionate to the legitimate aim pursued. These criteria are:

- the nature and seriousness of the offence committed by the applicant;
- the length of the applicant’s stay in the country from which he or she is to be expelled;
- the time elapsed since the offence was committed and the applicant’s conduct during that period;
- the nationalities of the various persons concerned;
- the applicant’s family situation, such as the length of the marriage, and other factors expressing the effectiveness of a couple’s family life;
- whether the spouse knew about the offence at the time when he or she entered into a family relationship;
- whether there are children of the marriage, and if so, their age; and
- the seriousness of the difficulties which the spouse is likely to encounter in the country to which the applicant is to be expelled.

The Court adds in this judgment two additional criteria:

- the best interests and well-being of the children, in particular the seriousness of the difficulties which any children of the applicant are likely to encounter in the country to which the applicant is to be expelled; and
- the solidity of social, cultural and family ties with the host country and with the country of destination.

* In a family reunification case, the Federal Administrative Court decided that, following the Chakroun judgment of the CJEU, the level of income that can be required from the sponsor, also depends on the actual needs of the family as a whole. If the necessary income level is not fully ensured, Article 17 of the Family Reunification Directive requires a further individual assessment if there are reasons to derogate from the formal income requirement. This assessment is in any case subject of a full judicial scrutiny.

* appeal from VG Berlin, 1 Aug. 2011, VG 22 K 340.09 V

* The German pre-entry language requirement is in compliance with art. 6 German Constitution and art. 8 ECHR, as long as the measure is proportional in the individual case. In case of a third country national with a German partner, this principle of proportionality is violated earlier than in case of both partners being third country nationals, because the German Constitution guarantees the right to residence to German citizens. Even if the German has also the Afghan nationality he can't be expected to live with his family life outside Germany. Therefore the spouse may enter Germany even without passing the language test if he or she has shown efforts to learn the language, but has not succeeded within a year's time. This period of one year does not need to be fulfilled if there are no courses (or alternatives) available or if participation in a course implies a high security risk. A German citizen who did not use the EU right to free movement, cannot rely on art. 9 Charter of Fundamental Rights, as Union law is not applicable. In this regard the court refers to art. 3(3) Dir. 2003/86, which excludes Union citizens. According to the court, this explicit exclusion in the directive justifies a different interpretation of the personal scope than the scope of Decision 1/80, as interpreted by the CJEU in the case Kahveci and Inan (C-7/10 and C-9/10).

* Regarding the position of the European Commission taken in the case Imran (see CJEU 155/11 in the previous section) that a certain language level as a condition for admission is not in compliance with the directive, a preliminary ruling of the Court of Justice would have been necessary in this case. However it was finished by granting the claimed residence permits and the decision was only on the costs. But the importance of the decision lies in the fact that German Court - in difference from its previous judgment of 30 March 2010 (BVerwG 1 C 8.09) - now regards it necessary to make a reference to the CJEU on the question whether the language requirement is in compliance with the Family Reunification Directive.

The question in this case was whether he was still entitled to this benefit after these 6 months as German citizens are. Such a limitation for non-nationals is an implementation of art. 24(2) of the Dir. on Free Movement. However, the German Court decided that the European Convention on Social and Medical Assistance [1953] does not allow such a limitation.*

The children had attained the age of majority after the Application had been made, but prior to a decision. The Minister refused family reunification on the basis that they were not dependent.*

The Applicant was successful in her Judicial Review as the Court found that the Minister had erred in restricting the assessment of dependency to the narrow issue of being financially dependent. Dependency should take into account all relevant social, economic, personal, physical, emotional and cultural bonds between the refugee and family member being considered. Furthermore the Minister did not conduct a proper investigation as to what would be objectively required to amount to dependency, and appeared to carry out "no more than an arbitrary evaluation based on no identified criteria".

* interpretation of Dir. 2003/109: Long-Term Resident

* The Dutch Council of State has decided that the level of fees for requiring the status of an EU Long-Term resident (€ 130), is not disproportionate for an individual applicant. However if a family, consisting of four persons, has to pay 4x € 130, the fees can constitute an obstacle to the exercise of the rights conferred by the Directive. The Council of State based its reasoning on the judgment of the CJEU (C-508/10 of April 2012), in which the Court decided that the Dutch fees were "excessive and disproportionate". The fees had been lowered since then, but the question remained if they had been lowered sufficiently. As a result of the recent Council of State's decision, the fees for minor children for acquiring an EU Long-Term residence status as well as for family reunification have been reduced to € 53.

A parallel rule applies to fiancés and unmarried or same-sex partners. Although it was clear that the marriage was not a forced marriage, the applicants had to leave the UK in order to have a family life. The Supreme Court held that the rule was "rationally connected to the objective of deterring forced marriages (...) but the number of forced marriages which it deters is highly debatable. What seems clear is that the number of unforced marriages which it obstructs from their intended development for up to three years vastly exceeds the number of forced marriages which it deters". The Court concluded that the Secretary of State had failed to establish that the interference with the rights of the respondents under Article 8, which protects the right to private life, that had been caused by the rule was justified.*

2.3.1 CJEU Judgments on Borders and Visas

- ☞ CJEU C-278/12 \(PPU\) Adil [19 July 2012]
 - * interpr. of Reg. 562/2006 Borders Code [Art. 20 + 21]
 - * The Schengen Borders Code must be interpreted as not precluding national legislation, such as that at issue in the main proceedings, which enables officials responsible for border surveillance and the monitoring of foreign nationals to carry out checks, in a geographic area 20 kilometres from the land border between a MS and the State parties to the CISA, with a view to establishing whether the persons stopped satisfy the requirements for lawful residence applicable in the MS concerned, when those checks are based on general information and experience regarding the illegal residence of persons at the places where the checks are to be made, when they may also be carried out to a limited extent in order to obtain such general information and experience-based data in that regard, and when the carrying out of those checks is subject to certain limitations concerning, inter alia, their intensity and frequency.

- ☞ CJEU C-575/12 Air Baltic [4 Sep. 2014]
 - * interpr. of Reg. 562/2006 Borders Code [Art. 5]
 - * The Borders Code precludes national legislation, which makes the entry of TCNs to the territory of the MS concerned subject to the condition that, at the border check, the valid visa presented must necessarily be affixed to a valid travel document.

- ☞ CJEU C-575/12 Air Baltic [4 Sep. 2014]
 - * interpr. of Reg. 810/2009 Visa Code [Art. 24(1) + 34]
 - * The cancellation of a travel document by an authority of a third country does not mean that the uniform visa affixed to that document is automatically invalidated.

- ☞ CJEU C-606/10 ANAFE [14 June 2012]
 - * interpr. of Reg. 562/2006 Borders Code [Art. 13 + 5(4)(a)]
 - * annulment of national legislation on visa
 - * Article 5(4)(a) must be interpreted as meaning that a MS which issues to a TCN a re-entry visa within the meaning of that provision cannot limit entry into the Schengen area solely to points of entry to its national territory.
The principles of legal certainty and protection of legitimate expectations did not require the provision of transitional measures for the benefit of TCNs who had left the territory of a MS when they were holders of temporary residence permits issued pending examination of a first application for a residence permit or an application for asylum and wanted to return to that territory (after the entry into force of this Regulation)

- ☞ CJEU C-241/05 Bot [4 Oct. 2006]

- * interpr. of Schengen Agreement [Art. 20(1)]
- * on the conditions of movement of third-country nationals not subject to a visa requirement; on the meaning of ‘first entry’ and successive stays
- * This provision allows TCNs not subject to a visa requirement to stay in the Schengen Area for a maximum period of three months during successive periods of six months, provided that each of those periods commences with a ‘first entry’.
- ☞ CJEU C-139/13 Comm. v. Belgium [13 Feb. 2014]

- ☞ CJEU C-39/12 Dang (deleted) [18 June 2012]
- * interpr. of Reg. 810/2009 Visa Code [Art. 21 + 34]
- * Whether penalties can be applied in the case of foreign nationals in possession of a visa which was obtained by deception from a competent authority of another Member State but has not yet been annulled pursuant to the regulation.
- ☞ CJEU C-355/10 EP v. Council [5 Sep. 2012]
- * violation of Reg. 562/2006 Borders Code
- * annulment of measure supplementing Borders Code
- * The CJEU decided to annul Council Decision 2010/252 of 26 April 2010 supplementing the Borders Code as regards the surveillance of the sea external borders in the context of operational cooperation coordinated by the European Agency for the Management of Operational Cooperation at the External Borders of the Member States of the European Union. According to the Court, this decision contains essential elements of the surveillance of the sea external borders of the Member States which go beyond the scope of the additional measures within the meaning of Art. 12(5) of the Borders Code. As only the European Union legislature was entitled to adopt such a decision, this could not have been decided by comitology. Furthermore the Court ruled that the effects of decision 2010/252 maintain until the entry into force of new rules within a reasonable time.
- ☞ CJEU C-261/08 & C-348/08 Garcia & Cabrera [22 Oct. 2009]
- * interpr. of Reg. 562/2006 Borders Code [Art. 5, 11 + 13]
- * Member States are not obliged to expel a third-country national who is unlawfully present on the territory of a Member State because the conditions of duration of stay are not or no longer fulfilled
- * Where a TCN is unlawfully present on the territory of a MS because he or she does not fulfil, or no longer fulfils, the conditions of duration of stay applicable there, that MS is not obliged to adopt a decision to expel that person.
- ☞ CJEU C-430/10 Gaydarov [17 Nov. 2011]
- * interpr. of Reg. 562/2006 Borders Code
- * Reg. does not preclude national legislation that permits the restriction of the right of a national of a MS to travel to another MS in particular on the ground that he has been convicted of a criminal offence of narcotic drug trafficking in another State, provided that (i) the personal conduct of that national constitutes a genuine, present and sufficiently serious threat affecting one of the fundamental interests of society, (ii) the restrictive measure envisaged is appropriate to ensure the achievement of the objective it pursues and does not go beyond what is necessary to attain it and (iii) that measure is subject to effective judicial review permitting a determination of its legality as regards matters of fact and law in the light of the requirements of European Union law.
- ☞ CJEU C-88/12 Jaoo (deleted) [14 Sep. 2012]
- * interpr. of Reg. 562/2006 Borders Code [Art. 20 + 21]
- * On statutory provision authorising, in the context of countering illegal residence after borders have been crossed, police checks in the area between the land border of the Netherlands with Belgium or Germany and a line situated within 20 kilometres of that border
- ☞ CJEU C-84/12 Koushkaki [19 Dec. 2013]

- * interpr. of Reg. 810/2009 Visa Code [Art. 23(4) + 32(1)]
- * Art. 23(4), 32(1) and 35(6) must be interpreted as meaning that the competent authorities of a MS cannot refuse a visa to an applicant unless one of the grounds for refusal of a visa listed in those provisions can be applied to that applicant. In the examinations of those conditions and the relevant facts, authorities have a wide discretion. The obligation to issue a uniform visa is subject to the condition that there is no reasonable doubt that the applicant intends to leave the territory of the Member States before the expiry of the visa applied for.
- ☞ CJEU C-139/08 Kqiku [2 Apr. 2009]
- * interpr. of Dec. 896/2006 Transit Switzerland [Art. 1 + 2]
- * on transit visa legislation for third-country nationals subject to a visa requirement
- * Residence permits issued by the Swiss Confederation or the Principality of Liechtenstein to TCNs subject to a visa requirement, are considered to be equivalent to a transit visa only.
- ☞ CJEU C-188/10 & C-189/10 Melki & Abdeli [22 June 2010]
- * interpr. of Reg. 562/2006 Borders Code [Art. 20 + 21]
- * consistency of national law and European Union law, abolition of border control and the area of 20 kilometres from the land border
- * The French ‘stop and search’ law, which allowed for controls behind the internal border, is in violation of article 20 and 21 of the Borders code, due to the lack of requirement of “behaviour and of specific circumstances giving rise to a risk of breach of public order”. According to the Court, controls may not have an effect equivalent to border checks.
- ☞ CJEU C-291/12 Schwarz [17 Oct. 2013]
- * interpr. of Reg. 2252/2004 Passports [Art. 1(2)]
- * Although the taking and storing of fingerprints in passports constitutes an infringement of the rights to respect for private life and the protection of personal data, such measures are nonetheless justified for the purpose of preventing any fraudulent use of passports.
- ☞ CJEU C-254/11 Shomodi [21 Mar. 2013]
- * interpr. of Reg. 1931/2006 Local Border traffic [Art. 2(a) + 3(3)]
- * The holder of a local border traffic permit must be able to move freely within the border area for a period of three months if his stay is uninterrupted and to have a new right to a three-month stay each time that his stay is interrupted. There is such an interruption of stay upon the crossing of the border irrespective of the frequency of such crossings, even if they occur several times daily.
- New ☞ CJEU C-44/14 Spain v. EP & Council [8 Sep. 2015]
- * non-transp. of Reg. 1052/2013 EUROSUR
- * Limited forms of cooperation do not constitute a form of taking part within the meaning of Article 4 of the Schengen Protocol. Consequently, Article 19 of the Eurosur Regulation cannot be regarded as giving the Member States the option of concluding agreements which allow Ireland or the United Kingdom to take part in the provisions in force of the Schengen acquis in the area of the crossing of the external borders.

- * interpr. of Reg. 2252/2004 Passports [Art. 4(3)]
- * Article 4(3) does not require the Member States to guarantee, in their legislation, that biometric data collected and stored in accordance with that regulation will not be collected, processed and used for purposes other than the issue of the passport or travel document, since that is not a matter which falls within the scope of that regulation.

2.3.2 ECtHR Judgments on Borders and Visas

- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 55352/12 Aden Ahmed v. MAL [23 July 2013]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 3 + 5]
- * The case concerns a migrant who had entered Malta in an irregular manner by boat. The ECtHR found a violation of art. 5(1), mainly due to the failure of the Maltese authorities to pursue deportation or to do so with due diligence, and of art. 5(4) due to absence of an effective and speedy domestic remedy to challenge the lawfulness of their detention. Also, the ECtHR requested the Maltese authorities (Art. 46) to establish a mechanism allowing a determination of the lawfulness of immigration detention within a reasonable time-limit. In this case the Court for the first time found Malta in violation of art. 3 because of the immigration detention conditions. Those conditions in which the applicant had been living for 14½ months were, taken as a whole, amounted to degrading treatment.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 53608/11 B.M. v. GR [19 Dec. 2013]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 3 + 13]
- * The applicant was an Iranian journalist who alleged to have been arrested and tortured due to his involvement in protests against the government. After his arrival in Greece a decision had been taken to return him to Turkey, and he had been held in custody in a police station and in various detention centres. His application for asylum was first not registered by the Greek authorities, and later they dismissed the application. The application mainly concerned the conditions of detention, in particular overcrowding, unhygienic conditions, lack of external contact, and lack of access to telephone, translators and any kind of information. Referring to its previous case law, the ECtHR held these conditions to be in violation of Art. 3. As there had been no effective domestic remedy against that situation, Art. 13 in combination with art. 3 had also been violated.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 27765/09 Hirsi v. IT [21 Feb. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 3 + 13]
- * The Court concluded that the decision of the Italian authorities to send TCNs - who were intercepted outside the territorial waters of Italy - back to Libya, had exposed them to the risk of ill-treatment there, as well as to the risk of ill-treatment if they were sent back to their countries of origin (Somalia and Eritrea). For the first time the Court applied Article 4 of Protocol no. 4 (prohibition of collective expulsion) in the circumstance of aliens who were not physically present on the territory of the State, but in the high seas. Italy was also held responsible for exposing the aliens to a treatment in violation with Article 3 ECHR, as it transferred them to Libya 'in full knowledge of the facts' and circumstances in Libya. The Court also concluded that they had had no effective remedy in Italy against the alleged violations (Art. 13).
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 11463/09 Samaras v. GR [28 Feb. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 3]
- * The conditions of detention of the applicants – one Somali and twelve Greek nationals – at Ioannina prison were held to constitute degrading treatment in violation of ECHR art. 3.

- * appeal from Berlin-Brandenburg Higher Administrative Court, 18 Dec. 2009

- * A Moroccan national seeks a Schengen visa to visit her two minor children living with her father in Germany. The visa is denied, primarily based on the assumption that there is no specific credible prospect of return. Although the court states that the child's personal contact and continuity of emotional bonds with both parents serve as a general rule toward developing the child's personality, the court does not find the denial of the visa disproportionate because the maintenance of family ties can be realised through other means and visits outside Germany.

3.3.1 CJEU Judgments on Irregular Migration

- ☞ CJEU C-562/13 Abdida [18 Dec. 2014]
 - * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 5+13]
 - * Although the Belgium court had asked a preliminary ruling on the interpretation of the Qualification Dir., the CJEU re-interpreted the question of an issue of Art. 5 and 13 of the Returns Directive.

These articles are to be interpreted as precluding national legislation which: (1) does not endow with suspensive effect an appeal against a decision ordering a third country national suffering from a serious illness to leave the territory of a Member State, where the enforcement of that decision may expose that third country national to a serious risk of grave and irreversible deterioration in his state of health, and (2) does not make provision, in so far as possible, for the basic needs of such a third country national to be met, in order to ensure that that person may in fact avail himself of emergency health care and essential treatment of illness during the period in which that Member State is required to postpone removal of the third country national following the lodging of the appeal.

- ☞ CJEU C-329/11 Achughbabian [6 Dec. 2011]
 - * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive
 - * The directive precludes national legislation permitting the imprisonment of an illegally staying third-country national who has not (yet) been subject to the coercive measures provided for in the directive and has not, if detained with a view to be returned, reached the expiry of the maximum duration of that detention. The directive does not preclude penal sanctions being imposed after full application of the return procedure established by that directive.

- ☞ CJEU C-534/11 Arslan [30 May 2013]
 - * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 2(1)]
 - * The Return Dir. does not apply during the period from the making of the (asylum) application to the adoption of the decision at first instance on that application or, as the case may be, until the outcome of any action brought against that decision is known.

- ☞ CJEU C-473/13 & C-514/13 Bero & Bouzalmate [17 July 2014]
 - * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 16(1)]
 - * As a rule, a MS is required to detain illegally staying TCNs for the purpose of removal in a specialised detention facility of that State even if the MS has a federal structure and the federated state competent to decide upon and carry out such detention under national law does not have such a detention facility.

- ☞ CJEU C-249/13 Boudjlida [11 Dec. 2014]
 - * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive
 - * The right to be heard in all proceedings (in particular, Art 6), must be interpreted as extending to the right of an illegally staying third-country national to express, before the adoption of a return decision concerning him, his point of view on the legality of his stay, on the possible application of Art 5 and 6(2) to (5) and on the detailed arrangements for his return.

- ☞ CJEU C-266/08 Comm. v. Spain [14 May 2009]
 - * non-transp. of Dir. 2004/81 Trafficking Victims
 - * On the status of victims of trafficking and smuggling

- ☞ CJEU C-189/13 Da Silva (inadmissible) [3 July 2014]
 - * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive
 - * On the permissibility of national legislation imposing a custodial sentence for the offence of illegal entry prior to the institution of deportation proceedings.

- ☞ CJEU C-61/11 \(PPU\) El Dridi [28 Apr. 2011]
 - * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 15 + 16]
 - * The Return Directive precludes that a Member State has legislation which provides for a sentence of imprisonment to be imposed on an illegally staying TCN on the sole ground that he remains, without valid grounds, on the territory of that State, contrary to an order to leave that territory within a given period.

- ☞ CJEU C-73/12 Ettaghi (deleted) [4 July 2012]

- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 2-8, 15 + 16]
- ☞ CJEU C-297/12 Filev & Osmani [19 Sep. 2013]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 2(2)(b) + 11]
- * Directive must be interpreted as precluding a MS from providing that an expulsion or removal order which predates by five years or more the period between the date on which that directive should have been implemented and the date on which it was implemented, may subsequently be used as a basis for criminal proceedings, where that order was based on a criminal law sanction (within the meaning of Article 2(2)(b)) and where that MS exercised the discretion provided for under that provision.
- ☞ CJEU C-383/13 \(PPU\) G. & R. [10 Sep. 2013]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 15(2) + 6]
- * If the extension of a detention measure has been decided in an administrative procedure in breach of the right to be heard, the national court responsible for assessing the lawfulness of that extension decision may order the lifting of the detention measure only if it considers, in the light of all of the factual and legal circumstances of each case, that the infringement at issue actually deprived the party relying thereon of the possibility of arguing his defence better, to the extent that the outcome of that administrative procedure could have been different.
- ☞ CJEU C-357/09 \(PPU\) Kadzoev [30 Nov. 2009]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 15(4), (5) + (6)]
- * The maximum duration of detention must include a period of detention completed in connection with a removal procedure commenced before the rules in the directive become applicable. Only a real prospect that removal can be carried out successfully, having regard to the periods laid down in Article 15(5) and (6), corresponds to a reasonable prospect of removal, and that that reasonable prospect does not exist where it appears unlikely that the person concerned will be admitted to a third country, having regard to those periods.
- ☞ CJEU C-146/14 \(PPU\) Mahdi [5 June 2014]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 15]
- * Any decision adopted by a competent authority, on expiry of the maximum period allowed for the initial detention of a TCN, on the further course to take concerning the detention must be in the form of a written measure that includes the reasons in fact and in law for that decision. The Dir. precludes that an initial six-month period of detention may be extended solely because the third-country national concerned has no identity documents.
- ☞ CJEU C-522/11 Mbaye [21 Mar. 2013]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 2(2)(b) + 7(4)]
- * The directive does not preclude that a fine because of illegal stay of a TCN in a MS is replaced by expulsion if there is a risk of absconding.
- New ☞ CJEU C-390/14 Mehrabipari (deleted) [5 June 2015]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 15 + 16]
- * Prejudicial question on refusal to cooperate on expulsion was withdrawn.
- ☞ CJEU C-166/13 Mukarubega [5 Nov. 2014]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 3 + 7]
- * A national authority is not precluded from failing to hear a TCN specifically on the subject of a return decision where, after that authority has determined that the TCN is staying illegally in the national territory on the conclusion of a procedure which fully respected that person's right to be heard, it is contemplating the adoption of such a decision in respect of that person, whether or not that return decision is the result of refusal of a residence permit.
- ☞ CJEU C-456/14 Orrego Arias (inadmissible) [3 Sep. 2015]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2001/40 Expulsion Decisions [Art. 3(1)(a)]
- * This case concerns the exact meaning of the term 'offence punishable by a penalty involving deprivation of liberty of at least one year', set out in Art 3(1)(a). However, the question was incorrectly formulated. Consequently, the Court ordered that the case was inadmissible.
- ☞ CJEU C-474/13 Pham [17 July 2014]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 16(1)]
- * The Dir. does not permit a MS to detain a TCN for the purpose of removal in prison accommodation together with ordinary prisoners even if the TCN consents thereto.
- ☞ CJEU C-430/11 Sagor [6 Dec. 2012]

- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 2, 15 + 16]
- * An illegal stay by a TCN in a MS:
 - (1) can be penalised by means of a fine, which may be replaced by an expulsion order;
 - (2) can not be penalised by means of a home detention order unless that order is terminated as soon as the physical transportation of the TCN out of that MS is possible.
- ☞ CJEU C-38/14 Zaizoune [23 Apr. 2015]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 4(2) + 6(1)]
- * Articles 6(1) and 8(1), read in conjunction with Article 4(2) and 4(3), must be interpreted as precluding legislation of a MS, which provides, in the event of TCNs illegally staying in the territory of that Member State, depending on the circumstances, for either a fine or removal, since the two measures are mutually exclusive.
- ☞ CJEU C-554/13 Zh. & O. [11 June 2015]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 7(4)]
- * (1) Article 7(4) must be interpreted as precluding a national practice whereby a third-country national, who is staying illegally within the territory of a Member State, is deemed to pose a risk to public policy within the meaning of that provision on the sole ground that that national is suspected, or has been criminally convicted, of an act punishable as a criminal offence under national law;
- (2) Article 7(4) must be interpreted to the effect that, in the case of a TCN who is staying illegally within the territory of a MS and is suspected, or has been criminally convicted, of an act punishable as a criminal offence under national law, other factors, such as the nature and seriousness of that act, the time which has elapsed since it was committed and the fact that that national was in the process of leaving the territory of that MS when he was detained by the national authorities, may be relevant in the assessment of whether he poses a risk to public policy within the meaning of that provision. Any matter which relates to the reliability of the suspicion that the third-country national concerned committed the alleged criminal offence, as the case may be, is also relevant to that assessment.
- (3) Article 7(4) must be interpreted as meaning that it is not necessary, in order to make use of the option offered by that provision to refrain from granting a period for voluntary departure when the third-country national poses a risk to public policy, to conduct a fresh examination of the matters which have already been examined in order to establish the existence of that risk. Any legislation or practice of a MS on this issue must nevertheless ensure that a case-by-case assessment is conducted of whether the refusal to grant such a period is compatible with that person's fundamental rights.
- ☞ CJEU C-51/12 Zhu (deleted) [16 Feb. 2013]
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive [Art. 2-8, 15 + 16]
- * Whether it is possible to substitute for the fine (for entering national territory illegally or staying there illegally) an order for immediate expulsion for a period of at least five years or a measure restricting freedom ('permanenza domiciliare').

- * ref. from 'Cour de Cassation' (France)
- * Does the Return Directive preclude national legislation under which a TCN who entered the territory of a MS illegally is liable to a term of imprisonment under the same conditions as those laid down by the CJEU (Achughbadian, C-329/11) in so far as concerns illegal stay, which are contingent on the person concerned not having been previously subject to the coercive measures referred to in Article 8 of the directive and the duration of that person's detention?
- ☞ CJEU C-161/15 Bensada Benallal
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive
- * ref. from 'Conseil d'Etat' (Belgium)
- * Does the general principle of EU Law upholding the rights of the defence, including the right of an individual to be heard by a national authority before any decision is taken by that authority likely adversely to affect that individual's interests such as a decision ending that individual's residence authorisation, carry in the legal system of the European Union an equivalent importance to that held by the rules of public policy in the Belgian legal system, and does the principle of equivalence require that a plea can be raised for the first time before the Conseil d'État hearing an appeal in cassation based on breach of the general principle of EU law of the right to a fair hearing as is permitted in the national law for pleas based on public policy?

- ☞ CJEU C-290/14 Celaj
- * interpr. of Dir. 2008/115 Return Directive
- * AG: 28 April 2015
- * Does the Dir. preclude a MS's legislation which provides for the imposition of a sentence of imprisonment of up to four years on an illegally staying TCN who, having been returned to his country of origin neither as a criminal law sanction nor as a consequence of a criminal law sanction, has re-entered the territory of the State in breach of a lawful re-entry ban but has not been the subject of the coercive measures provided for by Art. 8 with a view to his swift and effective removal?

3.3.3 ECtHR Judgments on Irregular Migration

- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 53709/11 A.F. v. GR [13 June 2013]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 5]
- * An Iranian entering Greece from Turkey had initially not been registered as an asylum seeker by the Greek authorities, which ordered his return to Turkey. However, the Turkish authorities refused to readmit him into Turkey, and he was then detained by the Greek police. Against the background of reports from Greek and international organisations, having visited the relevant police detention facilities either during the applicant's detention or shortly after his release – including the European Committee for the Prevention of Torture, the UN Special Rapporteur on Torture, the German NGO ProAsyl and the Greek National Human Rights Commission – the ECtHR found a violation of art. 3 due to the serious lack of space available to the applicant, also taking the duration of his detention into account. It was thus unnecessary for the Court to examine the applicant's other allegations concerning the detention conditions (art 5 ECHR) which the Government disputed. Yet, the Court noted that the Government's statements in this regard were not in accordance with the findings of the abovementioned organisations.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 13058/11 Abdelhakim v. HU [23 Oct. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 5]
- * This case concerns unlawful detention, without effective judicial review, of an asylum seeker during the examination of his asylum application. The applicant was a Palestinian who had been stopped at the Hungarian border control for using a forged passport.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 50520/09 Ahmade v. GR [25 Sep. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 5]
- * The conditions of detention of the applicant Afghan asylum seeker in two police stations in Athens were found to constitute degrading treatment in breach of ECHR art. 3. Since Greek law did not allow the courts to examine the conditions of detention in centres for irregular immigrants, the applicant did not have an effective remedy in that regard, in violation of ECHR art. 13 taken together with art. 3. The Court found an additional violation of ECHR art. 13 taken together with art. 3, resulting from the structural deficiencies of the Greek asylum system, as evidenced by the period during which the applicant had been awaiting the outcome of his appeal against the refusal of asylum, and the risk that he might be deported before his asylum appeal had been examined. ECHR art. 5 para. 4 was violated due to the lack of judicial competence to review the lawfulness of the deportation constituting the legal basis of detention.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 13457/11 Ali Said v. HU [23 Oct. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Art. 5]
- * This case concerns unlawful detention, without effective judicial review, of an asylum seeker during the examination of his asylum application. The applicants were Iraqi nationals who illegally entered Hungary, applied for asylum and then travelled illegally to the Netherlands from where they were transferred back to Hungary under the Dublin Regulation.
- ☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 27765/09 Hirsi v. IT [21 Feb. 2012]
- * violation of ECHR [Prot. 4 Art. 4]
- * The Court concluded that the decision of the Italian authorities to send TCNs - who were intercepted outside the territorial waters of Italy - back to Libya, had exposed them to the risk of ill-treatment there, as well as to the risk of ill-treatment if they were sent back to their countries of origin (Somalia and Eritrea). They also had been subjected to collective expulsion prohibited by Art. 4 of Protocol No. 4. The Court also concluded that they had had no effective remedy in Italy against the alleged violations.

☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 10816/10 Lokpo & Touré v. HU [20 Sep. 2011]

* violation of ECHR [Art. 5]

* The applicants entered Hungary illegally. After their arrest and during subsequent detention they applied for asylum. They were kept however in detention.

The Court ruled that Article 5 § 1 (right to liberty and security) was violated, stating that the absence of elaborate reasoning for an applicant's deprivation of liberty renders that measure incompatible with the requirement of lawfulness.

☞ ECtHR Ap.no. 14902/10 Mahmundi v. GR [31 July 2012]

* violation of ECHR [Art. 5]

* The conditions of detention of the applicants – Afghan nationals, subsequently seeking asylum in Norway, who had been detained in the Pagani detention centre upon being rescued from a sinking boat by the maritime police – were held to be in violation of ECHR art. 3. In the specific circumstances of this case the treatment during 18 days of detention was considered not only degrading, but also inhuman, mainly due to the fact that the applicants' children had also been detained, some of them separated from their parents. In addition, a female applicant had been in the final stages of pregnancy and had received insufficient medical assistance and no information about the place of her giving birth and what would happen to her and her child.

ECHR art. 13, taken together with art. 3, had been violated by the impossibility for the applicants to take any action before the courts to complain of their conditions of detention.

ECHR art. 5 para. 4 was violated due to the lack of judicial competence to review the lawfulness of the deportation that constitutes the legal basis for detention.

* interpretation of Dir. 2008/115: Return Directive Art. 2(1), 11(2)

* The legal exclusion effects linked to the 'pre-existing expulsion' of a man who is now a Union citizen persist even after the accession to the European Union of the country of which he is a national (here: Poland on 1 May 2004), the entry into force of the EU Citizens Freedom of Movement Act on 1 January 2005 and the expiry of the transposition period for the Return Directive. The time limit decision under sec. 7 (2) of the EU Citizens Freedom of Movement Act must be made on the basis of a current prediction of danger and review of proportionality; there is no maximum time limit beginning at the time of leaving the country.

- * Decision No 1/80 does not preclude an expulsion measure based on grounds of public policy from being taken against a Turkish national whose legal status derives from the second indent of the first paragraph of Article 7 of that decision, in so far as the personal conduct of the individual concerned constitutes at present a genuine and sufficiently serious threat affecting a fundamental interest of the society of the host Member State and that measure is indispensable in order to safeguard that interest. It is for the national court to determine, in the light of all the relevant factors relating to the situation of the Turkish national concerned, whether such a measure is lawfully justified in the main proceedings.

- * interpretation of Dec. 1/80 EC-Turkey Assn. Agr. Art. 13
- * *This case is about the suspension of the exemption from the residence permit obligation for those under the age of 16. According to the case law of the CJEU a restriction in national law that is in breach with the standstill clause, may be justified by an overriding reason in the public interest (as mentioned in C-183/13, Dogan). The Bundesverwaltungsgericht rules that this suspension is justified for “it alone establishes the basic conditions for being able to pursue with sufficient efficacy the high-priority public-interest goal of controlling immigration under conditions of quantitatively and qualitatively changing migration movements”.
So, effective control of migration flows is a legitimate purpose under Union law and proves to be an overriding reason in the public interest.*

It also precludes visa requirements for self-employed Turkish national or Turkish service providers. The Dutch court refers to several CJEU judgments: C-92/07, Cie. v. Netherlands; C-228/06, Soysal; C-101/05, Skatteverket.*

Lives Lost Report of Parliamentary Assembly of COE

- * On 29 Mar. 2012, the Committee on Migration, Refugees and Population of the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe, adopted Resolution 1872 (2012), based on the report: “Lives lost in the Mediterranean Sea: who is responsible?” This report was presented on 29 March 2012 by rapporteur Tineke Strik as a member of the Committee on Migration, Refugees and Population of the Assembly.

The starting point for the resolution and of the report is that at least 1500 people are known to have lost their lives attempting to cross the Mediterranean in 2011. This report however focuses on one particularly harrowing case in which a small boat left Tripoli with 72 people on board and after two weeks at sea drifted back to Libya with only nine survivors. No one went to the aid of this boat, despite a distress call logged by the Italian Maritime Rescue Coordination Centre, which pinpointed the boat’s position.
